U. S. Super Bombers Smash At Japan On Pearl Harbor Day

B-29 Bombers In Heavy Attack In Manchuria

Industrial City Of Mukden Is Target For Raid By Superfortresses

JAPAN REPORTS RAID ON TOKYO

(International News Service)

American Superfortress bombers marked the opening of a fourth year of conflict with Japan today by attacks on the important industrial city of Mukden and the port of Dairen in Japanese-occupied Manchuria, while the Japs said, incendiary bombs were dropped also on Tokyo.

Japanese army sources, according to the Tokyo radio, said approximately 70 big B-29 Superfortresses carried out the daylight attack on the targets in Manchuria.

Incendiaries On Tokyo
Three or four other Superfortresses unloaded incendiaries on Tokyo and started a fire in one area, the Japs said.

Headquarters of the United States 20th Air Force said a large task force of 20th Bomber Command Superfortresses based in China had carried out attacks on war production centers in Manchuria, but the dropping of incendiaries on Tokyo was not confirmed immediately.

The Jap accounts of the attacks were recorded by the FCC. Both radio Tokyo and the Domei agency gave reports on the Manchuria and Tokyo assaults.

Radio Tokyo admitted that damage had been inflicted on both Mukden and Dairen.

Continue Campaign
Washington, Dec. 7.—A "large task force" of China-based B-29 Superfortress bombers continued the campaign against Japanese war production by carrying out a daylight raid today on important industrial objectives in Japanese-occupied Manchuria.

No details were contained in the 20th Air Force's brief communiqué on the attack which was first announced on page two.

United States Pours Destruction Upon Japan And Germany On Third Pearl Harbor Anniversary

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—America's fighting forces today marked the third anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack which threw the United States into war by pouring destruction on the Japanese and beating at Germany's inner fortresses.

It has been a long, hard three years since the Japs pulled their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, but Japan and Germany are now on the defensive, with the allies marching on the road to Tokyo and Berlin.

Sunrise on Dec. 7, 1941, found U. S. military prestige at a low ebb. The Pacific fleet was out of action, its major battleships battered and unable to fight. An army was being built up under the defense program. A defense production program was planned and building, but slowly.

But the blow which Jap strategists thought would immobilize America until Russia had fallen to the German army and the European Axis partners could turn against the allies had an opposite effect.

American participation in the war did not immediately turn the tide, however. In the far east, Japan, almost unopposed, swept through the Solomon Islands, the Philippines, the Netherlands East Indies, through Thailand and Burma to the borders of India, eastward to the Gilberts, Wake Island and onto American soil at Kiska and Attu. Then she sat and waited, solidifying her position while the United States built up her forces, throwing almost everything available into the war against Hitler, whom United Nations leaders had decided was international public enemy No. 1.

Moscow Did Not Fall
Meanwhile, the blow which Japan had depended on to tell in her favor failed. Moscow did not fall. The red army, aided by allied arms and ammunition, turned and pushed back the Nazi hordes.

But generally, the year 1942 was one of allied defeats. In North (Continued on Page Two)

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Dec. 7.—The Soviet third Ukrainian army ripped through southeastern Hungary on a 150-mile front today in a smashing drive which seized the entire southern shore of Lake Balaton, sent spearheads to slightly more than 40 miles from the Austrian border and cost the lives of more than 2,000 Germans and Hungarians.

The Soviet communiqué also told of a two-mile punch up the west bank of the Danube river to within 30 miles of the Hungarian capital which engulfed the river town of Racz-Almas. The communiqué made no mention however of repeated Berlin reports that an all-out attack had been opened against Hungary's first city.

Shopping District In Southern England Hit By Rocket Bomb

Number Of Persons Killed And Many Injured; Some American Casualties

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—A German V-bomb which crashed down upon a shopping district in southern England recently killed a number of persons and injured many others, the ministry of home security announced today.

Casualties included a number of American servicemen.

The German missile demolished a saloon and heavily blasted a store, a hotel, a restaurant and other buildings.

Streets were blocked by masses of debris and jeeps and trucks were blown to pieces.

American troops helped rescue workers search the flaming debris. Numerous bodies were recovered from the wreckage. Victims included Americans from a large block of United States military offices nearby.

Many American soldiers were hospitalized and others treated for minor injuries.

The saloon which was destroyed had just closed when the bomb hit. Many persons were standing around just outside. They just disappeared.

Veterans Are Feted At West Pittsburg

West Pittsburg's hospitality touched a new high Wednesday night when the village was host to the "Firepower for Eisenhower" group of veterans which visited the Oliver Iron & Steel Corporation plant in the afternoon. The plant visit was for the purpose of confronting the workers of Oliver with the dire need of more and more ammunition, the evening affair was a social one, a courteous gesture of friendship and appreciation of the citizens to the front line veterans who have been sent back to the United States by General Eisenhower.

No community affair in West Pittsburg would be complete without one of the famous West Pittsburg chicken dinners being served by the women of the village. This took place in the Armando Diaz (Continued on Page Two)

Germany May Soon Be Forced To Yield Saar

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Strong belief prevails in allied military circles today that Germany will soon be forced to yield the Saar region in a desperate effort to save the Ruhr.

The tremendous pressure which General Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme allied commander, is bringing to bear with his allied armies on Germany's west wall is so severe that military observers believe Field Marshal Rundstedt will be forced to shorten his front drastically in order to maintain strong resistance on the vital northern sector.

Rundstedt's efforts to draw in his left flank already is regarded as the first step toward a retreat to a shorter front.

Meanwhile, the initial phase of General Eisenhower's gigantic winter offensive to smash the backbone of the German western armies on the west side of the Rhine already is considered to have scored successes both strategically and tactically.

Corporation Bond Sales In State Are Now Near Quota

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—(INS)—War bond sales to corporations came within 96 percent of their $658,000,000 quota as the result of $18,300,000 sales Tuesday which brought the total to $553,300,000. G. Ruhland Rebmann, Jr., chairman of the Pennsylvania war finance committee, announced today.

Sales to individuals, including E bonds, rose $10,129,865 to bring the total in this category to $214,894,001 or 58 percent of the $370,000,000 quota. E bond sales increased $5,183,857 for a new total of $77,754,092 or 43 percent of the $180,000,000 goal, he reported.

Aluminum Co. Plant Visited By Veterans

Veterans of the fighting front met veterans of the production front this morning when the "Firepower for Eisenhower" team visited the plant of the Aluminum Company of America, spoke to a rally of over 400 employees, inspected the plant and visited with the workers who are turning out nose plugs for shells.

The rally was another success in that what has turned out to be a string of successes on the tour of plants here. Each rally the Aachen veterans seem to get better and the only comparison of previous rallies with this morning would be to say this was a little better just as this afternoon's at the United Engineering company will probably add a little to the mounting success.

Doing the Job
At the Aluminum plant the veterans talked to employees who have been "in there pitching" for the war effort. Some examples of production were cited that should be telephoned to Hitler, just to add to his discomfort.

The rally was at 10:15 this morning and was handled by the employment-management committee. Upon the platform in addition to Captain William Scott and his four Aachen veterans were Ed Leary, who was in charge of the meeting; Virginia Bradley, Gertrude Springer, Henry Nell, Steven Hczrazo and (Continued on Page Two)

Mass Sedition Case Declared Mis-Trial Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—A mis-trial in the nation's eight months old mass sedition case was declared this morning after a poll of the defendants showed that 22 of the 26 would refuse to continue with another judge.

The decision was made necessary by the death last week of Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher, who had presided over the trial since its opening last spring.

Before entering court, Government Prosecutor O. John Rogge announced that the case of mistrial he would immediately bring the 26 defendants to trial again under the same indictment which charges a conspiracy to undermine the morale of the armed forces.

Yanks Gain In Ormoc Corridor On Leyte Island

Weather Conditions Are Reported As Somewhat Improved On Island

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Dec. 7.—With action flaring anew due to improved weather on Leyte Island, Gen. Douglas MacArthur today announced substantial gains in the Ormoc corridor, last stronghold of the enemy.

In San Francisco the FCC monitored a broadcast by the Japanese news agency Domei which said that a formation of American B-29 Superfortresses had raided the southern sector of Japanese-occupied Manchuria during daylight today. Domei said the raid had been carried out between 10 and 10:30 a. m. today (Japanese time) and claimed imperial air force fighters "were able to shoot several out of the sky," and one B-29 was destroyed "by a bodily-crash attack carried out by a plane attached to the National Army of Manchukuo" (the puppet army in Manchuria).

Tokyo Claims
(In another broadcast from Tokyo recorded by the Blue Network the Japanese claimed their aircraft had sunk eight American warships in Leyte Gulf, including a battleship or cruiser, five transports and one unidentified warship. This claim was not confirmed by any Allied source.)

In his Thursday morning communiqué, General MacArthur declared the Yanks have taken advantage of the improving weather by applying increasing pressure on the Japs trapped in the Ormoc sector.

The enemy's situation must be regarded as serious," the general's communiqué stated in announcing that inland sealanes to Ormoc have been effectively severed by Allied (Continued on Page Two)

New Deal Revolt Stuns Democrats

Threatens To Force Senate Rejection Of Some Of President's Appointments

STATE DEPARTMENT NOMINEES TARGETS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A New Deal revolt threatened today to force Senate rejection of some of President Roosevelt's appointments to top-ranking state department posts.

The revolt, so strong and unexpected that it stunned Democratic senate leaders, also may wreck the proposed reorganization of the department in preparation for peace and postwar problems.

Nominations Sent Back
By a vote of 37 to 27 the senate referred back to the foreign relations committee four nominations. They are: Joseph C. Grew, to be undersecretary of state, W. L. Clayton, Nelson A. Rockefeller and Archibald MacLeish, to be assistant secretaries.

Leaders in the movement today declared that they construed senate action to mean that public hearings will be held to ascertain the views of the four appointees on problems of peace and the world economic future.

No Open Hearings
Sen. Tom Connally (D) Texas, chairman of the foreign relations committee, angered by the senate action, declared that "we will see what we will do." He said he did not expect to hold open hearings.

The revolt has been stirred by some New Deal newspapers, including backers of vice-president Henry A. Wallace and leaders of the liberal and left wings of the New Deal.

Among the New Deal senators who refused the request for immediate confirmation were: Wagner and Mead, New York; Guffey, Pennsylvania; Murray, Montana; O'Mahoney, Wyoming, and Kilgore, West Virginia.

Hitler No Longer Directs Defense Allies Convinced

Officers In Command Of Allied Offensive See Change In Nazi Tactics

DEFENSE STRONGER THAN UNDER HITLER

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIGE
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)

According to dispatches of the past few days, officers of the Allied high command in France are becoming more and more convinced that Adolf Hitler no longer has anything to do with the command of German troops on the western front. No attempt is made to explain what has become of the fuhrer, but the behavior of Germany's armies in the desperate fighting along the Westwall is held to demonstrate plainly that other hands and other brains are running the show.

No Benefit To Allies
It is widely agreed that the change is by no means a benefit to American-British prospects, but the fact that there has been an extensive alteration in German tactics since the early days of the (Continued on Page Two)

British Airmen Resume Assaults On Armed Forces Of E. A. M. This Morning

FIGHTING LESSONS SAYS COMMANDER

(BULLETIN)

ATHENS, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Royal Air Force fighter planes went into action again early today to blast strongholds held by left-wing EAM (National liberation front) forces in the Greek capital.

The British airmen took to the skies at 8:15 to resume assaults against ELAS militiamen, the armed forces of the EAM, entrenched at the foot of the Temple of Jupiter.

The planes fired 20 millimeter shells into the ELAS positions after last night failed to dislodge the rebellious forces.

ELAS forces were said in reports to British headquarters to be reforming in an attempt to infiltrate into Athens.

(An Athens dispatch to the London Daily Mail said that 7,000 Partisan troops were known to be massing outside the capital in readiness for an attempted all-out assault on the city.)

British troops throughout the night moved to weed out resistance points held by the ELAS.

Fighting Lessons
Although the Greek continued to fight from trenches and rooftops, headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Ronald M. Scobie, British commander, indicated that fighting in the Athens-Piraeus area had lessened.

Greek government forces supported the British in the street battles to clear the ELAS forces from (Continued on Page Two)

Assault Against Saarbrücken Is Being Increased

Patton's Third Army Only Five Miles Distant From Saar Center

COUNTER BLOWS OF NAZIS BEATEN

BULLETIN

PARIS, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The United States Third Army... smashed into the town of Forbach less than five miles from the great industrial city of Saarbrücken today amidst widespread counter-attacks that cost the Germans heavily in tanks and armored vehicles.

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 7.—With Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army intensifying the assault on the industrial city of Saarbrücken from points only five miles distant, the American Ninth and First armies in the north beat down desperate German counter-blows today aimed at delaying a Yank crossing of the Roer river onto the plain before Cologne.

Front reports said American tanks forced German panzers into retreat after a heavy five-hour battle near Binning, 10 miles south-east of Sarreguemines. At least 10 German tanks were reported knocked out in the battle.

(A commentator of the Nazi DNB agency admitted that the pressure of both the American Third and (Continued on Page Two)

British Expand Drive In Italy

Seize Important Highway Town Of Mezzano, North Of Liberated Ravenna

ROME, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The British Eighth Army expanded its drive north of liberated Ravenna today seizing the important highway town of Mezzano and chasing the Germans out of the entire area east of the Lamone river.

At the same time the long and bitter battle for the Nazi-held communications hub of Faenza neared a climax as Polish columns, storming through stubborn German opposition, seized strategic Mount San Rinaldo and occupied the town of Brisighella.

Nearing Faenza
In Brisighella, the Poles were only seven miles southwest of Faenza.

The town was threatened from the south as the British overcame a series of German counter-thrusts to expand their bridgehead located at the Lamone at that point.

A break in the weather enabled the Allies to throw a fleet of 1,500 heavy, fighter-bombers and fighters into battlefields of southern Europe and blast German communications in Northern Italy and along the Po valley.

A total of 19 Allied planes failed to return to their bases.

Navy Will Use Huge Rockets For Knockouts

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—A naval ordnance officer disclosed today that the United States navy is planning to use gigantic rockets of unprecedented accuracy and destructive force to help deliver the knockout blows against both the Nazis and the Japs.

Gerald D. Linke, section chief in charge of armor projectiles and bombs in the navy's bureau of ordnance, revealing details of the massive rocket production, asserted that the estimated $100,000,000-a-month cost will equal the total monthly procurement of all naval ammunition at the present time.

Addressing the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers, Linke said:

"The navy laid down its first rocket barrage at Tarawa and since then has set the pace for development of rockets, which sharply reduce casualties during amphibious landings by pulverizing enemy beach defenses."

Capt. Linke, gunnery officer on the battleship "Pennsylvania" at the time of Pearl Harbor and later executive officer on the St. Helena, explained the four principal uses for rockets.

"They are used," he said, "in 'ground to ground' combat, where ground forces fire against other ground forces; for 'air to ground' fighting, where planes strafe ground forces; in air to air combat and as anti-aircraft weapons."

Citing the Guam attack as an example of the rocket's effectiveness in making rubble of enemy defenses, the navy spokesman declared that "thousands of rockets can be fired within a minute from bases mounted on landing craft and navy craft standing offshore."

Senate Committee Favors Tax Freeze

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Senate finance committee, by a vote of 13 to 2, today approved the House-passed bill to "freeze" social security payroll taxes at the present level during the next year.

Efforts will be made to speed passage in the Senate tomorrow so that the bill can be rushed to the White House for presidential action. Sponsors of the "freeze" want Congress to remain in session to pass upon an anticipated veto.

Present law requires one per cent social security payments each by employer and employee.

GERMANY MAY SOON BE FORCED TO YIELD SAAR

The first weeks of the campaign have been to draw the enemy's reserves into premature action. This has been accomplished in the Maas, Aachen and Saar sectors.

It is believed that General Eisenhower's strategy has drawn two-thirds of Rundstedt's available forces forward to the west bank of the Rhine. These divisions are being compelled to fight back to the Rhine.

It is the supreme commander's intention that few of them shall succeed in getting back across the Rhine. If they can be smashed on the west bank, allied military operations are agreed that the decisive battle of Germany in the west will have been won.

The Germans are fighting desperately to prolong the war in the hope that the development of so-called secret weapons, such as jet-propelled planes and rocket shells, will become sufficiently effective to cause a military stalemate and a compromise peace.

ASSAULT AGAINST SAARBRUCKEN IS BEING INCREASED

Seventh armies along the approaches to the Saar resulted in penetration of the forward defenses of the Siegfried line.

The Germans in last-minute efforts to stave off an onslaught which would enable the Ninth army to send its armor streaming toward the Rhine, shrouded their movements with a considerable smoke-screen.

Heavy Nazi Movements

The Nazi military forces behind the Ninth army front east of the Roer river were reported engaged in heavy movements. Enemy troops were reported being shifted about in both directions in the Linch area of the Ninth Army front northwest of Jülich.

At the same time observations disclosed that the Germans were again employing night lighting in the area between the front and the Rhine as occurred mysteriously once before.

On both Tuesday and Wednesday nights night fighter pilots saw lights between the First Army front and the Rhine. Some of the lights were stationary and some moving.

Previous night lighting by the enemy led to speculation that the Germans, hard-pressed to move up their supplies and establish defenses against the American threat, needed the illumination to speed their work.

Driven Across Roer

While the bulk of the Germans facing the Ninth Army have been driven back across the Roer, headquarters reported snipers still active west of the river, notably in the villages of Flossberg and Barmen.

The First Army put down three fierce German counter-attacks aimed at reclaiming the captured village of Bergstein and continued to engage the Nazis in heavy fighting around Vossenack.

Gen. Patton's troops tightening their grip on the Saar region smashed into Wehrden, five miles west of Saarbrücken and were in control of two-thirds of Sarreguemines, to the southeast.

Bitter tank clashes were reported in progress in the Rehbach area, 15 miles southeast of Saarbrücken. Coincident with the unrelenting Third Army drive toward Saarbrücken, the United States First Army uncorked three separate attacks in the Inden-Bergstein areas.

The initial onslaught was made at 3 p. m. yesterday and had gained 450 yards by nightfall. Some 100 prisoners were taken in brisk fighting. First Army patrols reached the western outskirts of Pier, two miles east of Inden, where they ran into enemy fire. Latest reports said this thrust was continuing.

The second attack came at 9 p. m. last night in the area of Bergstein. Slight progress was made to the northward with a view to broadening the salient jutting out from the town. These troops advanced to within 1,200 yards of the Roer river, which now has risen a foot on the Ninth Army front.

At 3 o'clock this morning, another attack was made from the Bergstein sector and a new gain of 300 yards made to the southeast. This assault also is still under way.

There was no explanation of the rise in the Roer—as to whether it was from rain or other natural causes or represented some new artificial German defense measure.

On the British front, enemy patrols are still crossing the Meas river from time to time between Venlo and Nijmegen and at points west of Nijmegen to the sea.

parts of the city. An official communiqué said there was definite evidence that numerous former German soldiers were in the ranks of the ELAS forces.

The British continued to employ both armored cars and tanks in their drive to quell the uprising resulting from a refusal by the EAM militia to turn in their arms.

British paratroops forces engaged in house to house fighting to root out snipers from positions along the main road between Athens and Piraeus.

The British inside Athens closed in on the ELAS units from behind chimney stacks and rooftop parapets. The Britons suffered numerous casualties, including troops who were killed.

Some 3,000 ELAS men were reported taken prisoners in operations so far.

Chairman Leary opened the rally with a few remarks welcoming the veterans to the Aluminum Company of America plant. He then introduced Captain Scott who in turn introduced Sgt. Richard Vanderbloemen, Pfc. Stanley Palka, Pfc. Steve Janek and Pfc. Mel Byrne.

It was a warm audience, a responsive audience that caught the spirit of the speakers whether it was humorous or serious. No one needed to ask the answer of the Aluminum men and women to the plea for more ammunition, it could be felt in their actions.

At noon today the "Firepower" group was tendered a luncheon in the cafeteria of the United Engineering & Foundry company and at 2:15 a rally of plant employees was held. This rally closes the three-day tour of New Castle and West Pittsburg.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to go to bed at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause zinging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, most successfully used for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

U. S. POURING DESTRUCTION ON JAPAN-GERMANY

Africa the Axis rolled to the gates of Egypt. It was not until Nov. 7, 1942, that the U. S. was able to launch a major offensive when the North African invasion took place. Successful beyond anticipation, it cleared North Africa of the Axis, saved the Mediterranean route for the shipment of allied forces and supplies to other battlefronts and gave military leaders experience in actual combat.

Tide Is Turned

From then on the tide turned in favor of the allies. The North African army moved on into Sicily and up the Italian boot. In 1943 the battle of the Atlantic raged and combined seapower was called into action to clear the seas of Axis submarines.

In the far east the picture was less dramatic but supplies for the ultimate offensive were being accumulated. The Japs were driven from Attu, Kiska and strategic islands in the south Pacific.

This year more telling blows have been struck. Most of France and parts of Belgium and Holland have been liberated. The Axis satellites, Romania and Bulgaria, are out of the war, as is Finland. The capitulation of Germany has not come but military leaders confidently expect it soon—next summer at the latest.

Japan On Defensive

Japan, too, is on the defensive. Her fleet was badly crippled in the Philippines. Bombs are falling on Tokyo. The reconquest of the Philippines is believed at hand. Guam has been regained and established as an advance base for operations against the Jap homeland. The army, navy and marines are on the road to Tokyo.

In the intervening three years since Pearl Harbor, U. S. military might and war production have grown beyond wildest belief. The army, which stood at 1,600,000 men three years ago, has grown to 8,000,000; the navy from 430,000 to 3,800,000 and the marine corps from 64,000 to 425,000. War production has increased almost 700 per cent, naval and merchant marine construction has multiplied phenomenally.

When the full weight of this war machine is felt the day of victory will be in sight.

HITLER NO LONGER DIRECTS DEFENSE ALLIES CONVINCED

battle of France has been commented upon by many Allied military observers. Nazi strategy no longer follows wild hunches nor amateurish designs but is moulded in accordance with the accepted rules of military science with a skill that indicates that the handwork of highly trained professional soldiers.

Unquestionably, the disposition of Nazi armies in France prior to D-day was unsound, as was noted by a number of Allied military leaders at the time. The four German army groups in the French republic were made responsible for covering far too much territory. An eventual Allied break-through at some point was certain and once the break occurred, Nazi forces were too thinly scattered to plug the gap.

Nazi Scheme Revised

Since the early phases of the battle of France, however, the whole German scheme of war has been revised. What caused the change is anybody's guess, but at about this time two events occurred, either or both of which may well have exercised revolutionary influence. First, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel received a wound that resulted in his death; next, Hitler himself was injured in the bombing attempt on his life.

Unquestionably the elimination of Rommel from the German command in France tended to lessen the influence of the Fuehrer in the conduct of the war there, while following his own attempted assassination, Hitler seems to have dropped out of the picture completely. Meantime, Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, a veteran Prussian soldier and a specialist on defensive warfare, seems to have assumed complete control.

German losses have been heavy and Nazi armies, have been forced gradually backward along the whole Rhine frontier, but there have been no major German blunders, either strategic or tactical since the change appeared in the character of Nazi operations which Allied observers are beginning to ascribe to the disappearance of Adolf Hitler from the picture.

YANKS GAIN IN ORMOC CORRIDOR ON LEYTE ISLAND

naval and air forces, cutting off further supplies and reinforcements for at least 25,000 Japs remaining in the corridor.

In a desperate attempt to clear snarled communications and supply lines in the Terna Corps sector on northwestern Leyte the Japs launched several futile tank attacks, but in each instance the Americans hurled them back and made further gains as they tightened their hold on an ever lengthening stretch of the vital Ormoc road, the enemy's sole means of retreat or advance.

Hard charging Doughboys of the veteran Seventh Infantry Division battling south of Ormoc breached the enemy's Palanas river line, shoving two columns to points south of Balogo on the east and to King Dagit village farther inland.

announced by the Japanese Domei agency which said the big American planes raided areas in the southern sector of Manchuria.

The communique made no mention of Japanese reports that previous to the raid on Manchuria "three or four B-29s" had again attacked Tokyo, setting fires with incendiary bombs.

"A large task force of B-29 aircraft of Maj. Gen. Lemay's 20th bomber command continued the campaign against Japanese war production with a daylight attack today, Dec. 7, against important industrial objectives in Japanese-dominated Manchuria," said the Washington announcement. "Further details will be announced when additional information becomes available."

Farrell Violators Handed Sentences

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Federal court at Pittsburgh today had sentenced three Farrell residents for carrying on the business of retail liquor dealers without paying the government tax.

Floyd Peters and Louise Ruffin were sentenced to six months each, while Charles Woods received a one-month term.

The trio was arrested last summer by federal agents who made raids on places alleged to have been selling liquor to soldiers from Camp Reynolds.

Nor how easy it is to avoid eyestrain, even though you may be patriotically trying to conserve electricity. Here are four very simple rules which will help conserve eyes and energy.

- 1 Do all reading, study-

Three Years Of War

The end of America's third year of participation in this war finds our forces in Europe approaching the climax of what may well be the greatest and most tateful battle in history. In the Pacific, against the enemy whose attack brought us into the struggle, we have overcome his tremendous early advantage and, after months of slow, painful effort, have definitely taken the offensive.

Three years ago our military leaders chose to concentrate our major forces upon our stronger enemy to avert our greater danger. And today the wisdom of that decision to beat Germany first is more apparent than ever. For the latest horde of barbarians to overrun Europe presented a greater danger to civilization than all the Vandals, Huns, Turks and Tartars who had scourged the continent in 2,000 years. Civilization was more vulnerable because of the centralization that its advancement had brought. It was prey to the cunning of its own science. Vast territories and resources and populations of that civilization had been devoured by Hitler to give him strength.

Three years ago this country joined the last two great free powers of Europe to free and restore all that Hitler had taken.

Today that freedom and restoration are almost complete. From the critical days when it seemed that America as well as her Allies might be faced with destruction, we have come to the place where the battle of Europe is now the battle of Germany. We have reached that point at the price of death and pain and unremitting effort. And the price will remain the same until both Berlin and Tokyo have fallen.

Here at home there has seemed to be a feeling recently that the closer we come to victory the less effort is needed to win it. It seems to have been forgotten that it takes more power to overcome a stubborn enemy than it does simply to hold him in check.

This is total war, and total war is no sport at which spectators may sit in the grandstand and watch the thrilling finish. There are no spectators. Some of us at home are required to contribute much to victory, others have but a small part in the result. But none of us can be idle.

The least we can do is stay on the job, buy War Bonds, and make our small sacrifices, not with complaints but with penitence and humble gratitude that they are no worse.

At the end of three years of war we are on the road to victory, but it is a road on which there is no coasting. Germany must be hit with our maximum power to the day she capitulates and any letdown after that day will only lengthen the war with Japan, which at best must be long and bloody and bitterly contested.

What needs saying on the Pearl Harbor anniversary has best been said by General Eisenhower: "War is like pushing a heavily loaded wagon up a steep hill in a fog and never knowing when you are going to reach the top. So you have to push like hell all the time."

If Germans Want To Eat

Scorched earth policies sound good and seem very smart to Nazi generals. What they mean to the German people when Allied armies march in has been explained to them in blunt terms by General Eisenhower. His statements, broadcast by radio, outline a policy on our side that will have the fullest support of Americans.

It is simply this: when Americans, British and other Allied soldiers take over after retreating Nazi armies the Germans who remain need not expect largesse from us. If they want to eat, keep themselves warm and otherwise find the means of existence, they'll have to rely upon their own resources.

The Supreme Allied Commander made it plain, first, that Allied armies must carry their own supplies ever inch of the way, and in the long run that means enormous shipments of food and other essential materials from this country. Any excess will be employed to relieve the grim conditions afflicting the countries formerly occupied by the Nazis and ruthlessly looted by them.

General Eisenhower's broadcast warned German townspeople to conserve their food supplies and fuel from their rapacious rulers and the Nazi soldiery, who seem to be looting as freely in German territory as they did in France, Belgium and Holland. He tells German farmers that if they are wise they'll seed crops and other food-producing necessities and endeavor to prevent their own military forces from driving away their cattle.

Hitler, Himmler and von Rundstedt can turn invaded portions of Germany into a desert if they wish, but they couldn't get so very far with that project if the German people there made any reasonable effort to block them. If they don't do so, they'll pay for it. We won't.

No Time For Over-Optimism

It's to be hoped the testimony of the American industrialists who have been touring the Western Front, that the Allies are just beginning the "tough slugging phase" of the war, will help to eliminate smugness and over-confidence at home.

As Frederick C. Crawford, chairman of the board of the National Association, said in Paris after visiting the battlelines, "we have to face an enemy strongly dug in and aided by terrain and natural obstacles. We will have to batter our way through and it is either men or artillery. We prefer to expend artillery."

One trouble is, according to Brigadier General Albert J. Browning, assistant director of material, who accompanied the business men, that in the original supply program "we simply did not make enough allowance for heavy artillery and ammunition." That artillery and ammunition must now be provided if lives are to be saved and the earliest possible victory won.

In the European war situation there is no basis for one iota of smugness. We must produce the tools for our fighting men without let-up. Every minute of production is vital. Every wave of over-optimism that sweeps this country is a threat to the safety of the boys on the Western Front, on the Italian front and in the Pacific.

PAIN & FEVER

Pain and fever are indications that there is trouble somewhere in the body.

Sometimes pain is the first sign and fever comes later. Sometimes they appear at about the same time. Appendicitis is such a common occurrence that we should be on the lookout for it.

Pain is usually first symptom. Later there may be fever and vomiting. If there is a severe pain in the belly which lasts a good while laxatives should not be taken.

A good thing to do is keep quiet and get medical attention. If the condition is due to appendicitis laxatives are dangerous.

It is better to be on the safe side.

Some Progress At Air Conference

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—After six weeks of intensive effort, the delegates to the International Air Conference are stopping somewhat short of perfection. In fact, those who had hoped this meeting would set the pattern for future agreements in other commercial fields are departing not satisfied, and yet not altogether disillusioned.

The plain truth is that no great power would have been willing to go much further than what has finally been agreed upon here. National rivalries, seen almost as acute as they were 25 years ago. Yet those who have taken the lead at the Chicago conference say that it has made one basic and far-reaching contribution. It has opened the air to the free passage of traffic, just as three centuries ago the seas were opened to the free movement of the vessels of every nation.

Moreover, no nation—by the face of its strategic geographical position—can block the passage of the vessels of every nation. The right to safe transit in and out is assured.

Basic Quarantine

Under this basic quarantine, the way is left open for individual nations to determine, by negotiation with one another, the terms under which passengers and freight will be carried. That process has already begun. While the conference was in progress, the state department announced the United States had signed an agreement with Spain giving us rights in connection with an airline into the Mediterranean.

But so much is left out. The air council to be set up under the agreement will be not a judicial body with judicial powers, but an assembly of the delegates of sovereign nations each delegate watching out jealously for its own national interests. There were idealists who came here hoping we had advanced to another stage of international co-operation. They had hoped that sovereignty would not get in the way of a truly international accord.

Powerful Lobby

All the time the conference has been meeting, a powerful lobby representing private air interests has been doing everything possible to put obstacles in the way of any agreement at all. You hear rumors of the money spent by this lobby. Representatives of this lobby have had the assistance of the isolationist Chicago Tribune in undermining the position of the American delegation.

This lobby is not 100 per cent American. It has been aided and abetted by foreign groups that would also like to see no regulation whatsoever. Without regulation, they would be free to divide up the world's air traffic between themselves. In other words, when things settled down and everybody forgot the idealistic talk about an international air agreement, they could form a cozy international air cartel.

Our negotiators here in Chicago had the example before them of what happened to the Anglo-American oil agreement. That tepid document, which provided for consultation on the use of oil reserves, has been due to death in the foreign relations committee, and Senator Connally of Texas, chairman of that committee, says it was "unfair to the American oil industry."

Vague And General

It was so vague and so general that it could hardly have been unfair to anybody. But Senator Connally, who comes from a big oil-producing state where oil men are up to their ears in politics, says it was unfair.

Chairman Adolf A. Berle, Jr., of our air delegation, knew only too well that if he went beyond a certain point, ratification of the air treaty by the senate would be impossible. He knew, too, that he was likely to be reorganized out of a job of the state department, and that harshly stressed his hand. It was stupid and cruel to announce his dismissal before the conference had ended.

The oil industry killed the oil agreement. The air industry, or a section of it, might try to kill the air agreement. And Senator Connally might try to kill it with "unfair" to the oil industry.

So the men of good will are leaving Chicago, believing that at least they have made a beginning. Much will depend on what is done from this point on. A modest foundation has been laid, and that is all.

The Parent Problem

HOW TO HELP THE STUTTERER

Most stuttering begins and continues because of emotional conflicts or nervous strain or excitement. Far more often than not, it begins before speech has developed far, before the child enters school. We can help prevent the beginning of stuttering, or reduce or "cure" it once it has begun, if we keep the child strong and healthy, keep him from excessive fatigue, excitement and emotional hamperings. This means poise and calmness in ourselves, a serene and happy family atmosphere and skill at managing him with the least possible resistance and the greatest possible cooperation.

Hundreds of parents have written me for my special bulletin on "Stuttering." Some of them have taken the trouble to write me later that it worked. This bulletin may be had for postage in a self-addressed stamped envelope sent to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

There is a feeling that Mr. Stettinius will be in full accord with this view; that he will look upon Mr. Hopkins as his guide and take his orders from the White House. On the other hand, there is a second class of advisers who urge that Mr. Stettinius play a very different role, indeed. These include those upon whom the great cause of world peace weighs heavily, who talk and write always in global terms.

THESE declare that an opportunity such as few men have now lies before Mr. Stettinius. If he fully grasps this opportunity, he may immortalize his name in history. Upon him largely rests the duty of seeing that this country does not throw away the fruits of victory. He is urged not to sink into the role of Wilson's Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing, but himself to exercise leadership in a selective-security organization that will insure permanent peace. This, they assert, is what Mr. Hull wanted to do and would have done. Mr. Stettinius has solemnly pledged himself to carry on Mr. Hull's work and carry out Mr. Hull's policies.

WITHOUT, of course, antagonizing the President, he is now pleaded with not to lower the dignity of the great office he holds by becoming a mere White House rubber stamp. He will, it is said, be a far stronger position and be a far happier man if he does not do this than if he permits Mr. Hopkins to map his course too completely. It is quite a choice for a young man to make. The nature of the disposition, of course, is to compromise; but that might turn out the worst way of any.

Great Game Of Politics

Many Want To Advise New Secretary Of State

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. MR. EDWARD R. STETTINIUS, Jr., our new secretary of state, has a fair chance of becoming the most overadvised official of this or any other administration. Already he is being drenched with advice. It pours upon him from all directions, in and out of the department, from a wide assortment of persons.

ONE REASON is because Mr. Stettinius is astonishingly young for his high post; a second is because he is relatively inexperienced, and the third is because he takes kindly to advice; does not resent being advised; seems, in fact, to be grateful to his advisers. Perhaps this is a good thing, and certainly he is getting an extremely large dose at the moment. But it has its disadvantages, too. For one, it is impossible to assimilate all the advice Mr. Stettinius is getting now. Much of it is contradictory, and too much docility toward his advisers is sure to lead to confusion.

EDITORS, radio commentators, columnists, diplomats, professional liberals and the practical politicians are all trying to tell Mr. Stettinius what he ought to do and how to do it. The friends of Mr. Sumner Welles insist that he listen to that not-altogether admirable gentleman. Others point out that there could be no surer way of alienating the support of those who respect and like Mr. Hull. He regarded Mr. Welles as thoroughly disloyal to him and forced his retirement as undersecretary. Following the shifts, changes and new appointments announced on Monday (which obviously were not entirely determined by Mr. Stettinius), still further reorganization is being pressed upon him.

IT is a tough spot for a friendly young fellow like Mr. Stettinius, who dislikes controversy and wants everybody to like him. The general commendation of his elevation is certain to measurably diminish as a result of the decision soon to be forced on him. In brief, he is not going to be able to please everybody. On the contrary, pretty soon he is certain to make a lot of personal enemies, which will be a new experience for him. It is the cost of his sudden eminence, the price a man has to pay for power and importance. While Mr. Stettinius' individual advisers are quite numerous, and there are many small feudists among them, in the main they can be divided into two classes.

FIRST, there is the class which thinks Mr. Stettinius should recognize that he has become Secretary of State, just as he became undersecretary, not because of his own ability or charm, but because Mr. Harry Hopkins, presidential adviser and friend, preferred him over other aspirants. He should recognize that Mr. Roosevelt, as has been often said, intends to be his own Secretary of State; that Mr. Hopkins, as Mr. Roosevelt's most devoted friend, speaks for the President; that what Mr. Stettinius is expected to do is what Mr. Hopkins or the President himself tells him to do; that he will get along fine if he does just that and avoids the notion that it is his prerogative to make foreign policy or State Department selections. These are distinctly White House prerogatives and will be exercised more freely by Mr. Welles than by Mr. Hull. The recent changes seem proof of that.

THESE declare that an opportunity such as few men have now lies before Mr. Stettinius. If he fully grasps this opportunity, he may immortalize his name in history. Upon him largely rests the duty of seeing that this country does not throw away the fruits of victory. He is urged not to sink into the role of Wilson's Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing, but himself to exercise leadership in a selective-security organization that will insure permanent peace. This, they assert, is what Mr. Hull wanted to do and would have done. Mr. Stettinius has solemnly pledged himself to carry on Mr. Hull's work and carry out Mr. Hull's policies.

WITHOUT, of course, antagonizing the President, he is now pleaded with not to lower the dignity of the great office he holds by becoming a mere White House rubber stamp. He will, it is said, be a far stronger position and be a far happier man if he does not do this than if he permits Mr. Hopkins to map his course too completely. Writer Gives Cheer For President's Aide
Southern General Found To Have Much Tact
Pa Watson Has Proven Real Pal To Leader

By HELEN ESSARY
(Copyright, 1944)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—This city is like the show window of a fancy grocery store. There are all kinds of "specialties" behind its plate glass. Even if you are running fast, as all Washingtonians do, you can see the specialties without looking too hard. The big apples, for example, polished to catch the eye.

If you are not an old timer, you think those apples are the best kind of apples. Just because they are so red, are out in front and cost 25 cents apiece. But you know, if you have been around long, that the big shiny apples are not a taste of good in a pie. They are a tasteless. They have no flavor. Or substance, either. They are mere window dressing.

Many of the people you hear most about in Washington are window dressing. But behind the window dressing are some good, stout-hearted citizens who keep their own homes and help run the capital show meanwhile.

Real Southern Gentleman
I am going to try to tell you now and then about a few of these, real characters. I like to think of them working behind the scenes. Not maneuvering. Just plugging away. And not selling out to anybody. Not even to their bosses.

Here to begin my series is "Pa" Watson, military aide and secretary to the president of the United States. A major general in the United States Army. From West Point and Alabama, by way of Virginia.

General Watson is a southern gentleman from way back. Kinda modest, too. With a nice level. The latest "good story" with probably more "influence" than Harry Hopkins and Felix Frankfurter added together and multiplied by the tax end of the national debt.

No kow-tower is "Pa" Watson. (Edward Watson in the Congressional Record). Not that anybody ever heard his real name. But a hearty hunk of America who would fall over himself if he would try to bend a knee.

Mighty knowing behind his easy going, too. You can hear him say when the intrigue around 1600 Pennsylvania avenue gets too thick. "Now looky here. There ain't nothin' to be no more foolin'. And no more foolin' there is. Not while Pa is lookin'."

Pa hasn't tried to iron himself out into a smoothie. His unabridged southern speech is part of his charm. It is a good smoke screen, too. Pa needs a smoke screen to protect him from some of the callers who try to stop around and see the president. Pa is the one man who makes appointments to see the president. And it's a job! Honey child—it shore is!

I remember an appointment Pa made for me. What a nuisance I was. The Woman's National Press club was working on Mr. Roosevelt. Trying to get him to come to talk at a luncheon meeting. No president of the United States had ever talked to newspaper women before.

President Decides
I haunted Pa for days when I was not haunting Steve Early, presidential press secretary. And the president, himself, whenever I could manage a good after a news conference. Finally the date for the president's appearance was set. The club was enchanted.

Then one day Pa Watson called me in from the waiting room of the executive offices. "Got a little bad news for you," he said. "Looks like you've got to have to speak to a special session of Congress the day he meant to come to you-ah. Now you just be a good girl and go on home. And I'll call you up when we find a time both the president and Mrs. Roosevelt can come to gether."

"Go home! Not me! I will just sit right here and wait." I did sit and wait. Finally after an hour or two, Pa sent this note in to his boss, then presiding at a cabinet meeting: "Please can you decide on that Press club meeting? Helen Essary out here in feverish condition."

The president did decide. On the back of Pa's note. No wonder I have fat got him to come to talk to the Press club meeting? Helen Essary out here in feverish condition."

The president did decide. On the back of Pa's note. No wonder I have fat got him to come to talk to the Press club meeting? Helen Essary out here in feverish condition."

In the case of Montgomery Ward, it will be remembered the President took summary action in enforcing the Board's ruling, sending to the Board of directors for summary removal of the corporation's president from his office.

In the case of Czar Petillo, the Board also made definite recommendations to the President. Instead of following these recommendations forthrightly, as in the Ward case, the President let the Petillo matter simmer until a few weeks prior to election, when he wrote a humble plea urging the musicians' czar to be a good fellow and comply with the Board's ruling. Mr. Petillo promptly rejected the plea. Thereupon, the two corporations affected, evidently assuming that Mr. Roosevelt's re-election left them no alternative, gave in and signed a contract under which they will pay Mr. Petillo tribute estimated at some Four Million Dollars a year.

It is interesting to note that the War Labor Board is beyond the reach of the Supreme Court—and therefore above the Constitution. It is also interesting to note that the President, in his role as final arbiter of the Board's rulings, followed diametrically opposite courses towards the head of a large mercantile corporation and the head of a large Union. If this is not arbitrary exercise of executive powers, what is it?

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Dec. 10, is Gen. 1:27, 28; Matt. 19:4-6; Luke 10:38-42; Eph. 6:1-4; II Tim. 1:3-6, the Golden Text being John 13:17, "These things I command you, that ye may love one another.")

"So God created man in His own image... Male and female created He them."

"And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

"Thus was created the family, man, wife and children, and in Matthew 18 Jesus answered the Pharisees who tempted Him by asking Him about the sacredness of marriage, by saying, 'Have ye not read, that He which made them at the beginning made them male and female.'

"And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they twain shall be one flesh?"

"Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder."

Jesus' Answer to the subject of divorce.

This is Jesus' answer to the subject of divorce. "Married children should wed in love," and live for one another, and their offspring, these are the people who form the solid ground of any nation. They are the kind of homes in which, with the security and love into fine and useful men and women.

There is no exaggerating the importance of influence of such a home, or of children.

One such home was often honored by Jesus. We do not know the father and mother in this, but the three people who indeed, Mary, Martha and their brother Lazarus—were friends of His, who lived in the little town of Bethany, near Jerusalem.

"It came to pass" that Jesus visited this home after His talk with the lawyer to whom He told the story of the Good Samaritan, this was the sort of person who numbered about much serving, evidently worried about her household duties and considered them more important than anything else in the world. Mary, on the contrary, may have been just as good a housekeeper, but her ears and eyes were wide open to more spiritual things.

On this occasion Mary sat at Jesus' feet listening to His talk, but Martha came to Him, saying, "Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me."

Jesus answered, "Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

"But one thing is needful; and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her."

We do not know if Martha took Jesus' words to heart and came to realize that it is just as bad to make too much of one's work and neglect higher things, as it is to concentrate on spiritual things alone and neglect one's job.

Paul Writes Ephesians

Writing to the Ephesians when he was a prisoner in Rome, Paul wrote: "Children obey your parents in the Lord; for this is right."

"Honor thy father and mother."

To learn to obey is the first task of the young child. With the tiny child this must at first be blind obedience; but as the child develops understanding it can be explained why he must obey those in charge of the home and who are older and wiser than he.

To be a good citizen of a community, it is necessary for a human being to be trained in obedience in early life.

"And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Parents should be kind and understanding; not aggravating their children unduly, but living in happy harmony with them. Their influence and example are the most important part of a child's character building.

This home influence is illustrated by St. Paul in his letter to Timothy, a favorite disciple and co-worker of his with whom he had parted in tears.

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that in thee also."

This home background of spiritual, God-fearing women, accounted, it seemed to Paul, for Timothy, the fine, earnest young man he loved.

Lack Of 'Teeth' In Manpower Bill Assailed

By EARL MARCKRES
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—War Production Board Chairman Julius A. Krug told the senate war investigating committee today that failure of congress "to put teeth" in manpower control is responsible for the shortage of workers in critical war programs.

At the same time, Krug disclosed that war agencies propose to put "labor ceilings" on such service occupations as barbershops, hotels and restaurants.

But without legislation, they have "no enforcement power except public opinion," he said.

Meanwhile Krug denied under committee questioning that war agencies "have agreed to stop criticizing one another." They have, he said, decided to reach "agreements on the facts" as to manpower needs of plants and industries.

Lt. F. J. Brookman Cited For Gallantry

Second Lieut. Francis J. Brookman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. D. Remer of Connellsville, Pa., and graduate of New Castle high school, has been cited for unusual gallantry under heavy enemy fire while serving with an armored artillery battalion making a drive on a strategically important hill west of Tessa-sur-Vire, France.

Lt. Brookman, who was football manager for the Ne-Ca-Hi team in 1939, enclosed his citation in a letter which he wrote on a confiscated German typewriter. According to the young lieutenant, the citation was: "A little something that came up with the rations. I haven't received the actual medal yet, but will send it to you when I do."

Mr. and Mrs. DeRemer, parents of Lt. Brookman, are Mahoningtown residents. Brookman has been in service since January, 1939, and overseas since last December. A brother, Pvt. Daniel E. Brookman, is in the Philippines.

Bombs Strike Near Palace Of Jap Emperor

(BULLETIN)
B-29 BASE, SAIPAN, Dec. 7.—(INS)—(Via Navy Radio)—A pair of B-29s fire-bombed the Tokyo industrial waterfront area, starting at least seven fires within view of the Emperor's palace, last night.

The Japanese were completely unaware of the imminence of danger until the bombs struck. The city was ablaze with lights to the farthest suburb and no blackout attempt was made. Even ships crowding the harbor were lighted as if for a regatta.

The first plane, piloted by Lieut. Col. Robert K. Morgan of Asheville, N.C., hit just at the capital's supper time, scattered its bellyful of bombs over the arrow-shaped section of the city between the Sumida and Ara rivers, just east of the Giza and only one-half mile from the palace.

EAST BROOK

CLASS PARTY
The Helping Hand Class of the East Brook U. P. church will hold their bi-monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, December 12, at the home of Mrs. Betty McKee. Hostesses for the evening are Betty McKee, Mary Patterson, Mildred Gibson, and Rena Mayberry.

MARY JANE MEETING
Members of the Mary Jane Society of the East Brook U. P. church met Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ernest Patterson for their annual tureen dinner. The social committee was in charge of the arrangements. Later in the evening a program was carried out with Mrs. Margaret Patterson as leader. "Christian Pioneering in Southeast Asia" was the topic and discussions were given by Helen Martin, Jane Reher, and Emma Boyles. Roberta Shienberger presided at the business meeting and reports were given by Lucile Patterson and Lillian Edie. The January meeting is scheduled at the home of Ila Walton on the second Tuesday of the month rather than the regular meeting evening.

Washington Students Almost Double Quota Of Bonds For Bomber

'Singing Assembly' Held This Morning: School Will Continue
 Purchases Next Week

Swinging out with songs such as "Save on sugar; save on shoes; save on everything you use" sung to the tune of "Little Brown Jug," the students of George Washington Junior High School this morning celebrated the fact that they nearly doubled the quota assessed to them for their part of the price of the hell-diver which the public school's are buying.

B. K. Thacker, principal of the school and chairman of the public school's stamps and bonds committee, presided at the singing assembly, explaining the school's plans in the coming week of bond buying and stressing "Sacrifice Week" and the school's part in it. Miss Verna Wilfert, activities director of the school, reported that the school had purchased $16,273.85 worth of bonds, which will be counted toward the hell-diver bomber. Bonds purchased next week will be credited to the school but will not be used for the bomber.

Following the reports, Mrs. Paul McCandless, Jr., led the students in singing the catchy pep tunes sent out by the treasury department. Using familiar tunes, the songs included one about "The Jeep in a Marvelous Critter," and one that went "Yankee Doodle Went to Town to get a stick of candy. But on the way he saw some bonds and thought they'd come in handy." John E. Paton led the orchestra in special music for the program.

Dorsey Case Witness Now Held In Jail

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(INS).—Antonio Icaza, the state's discredited main witness at the Tommy Dorsey-Pat Dane-Allen Smiley felonious assault trial, was jailed today on suspicion of perjury.

The dapper young Panamanian sailor and actor was booked and lodged in the county jail after being picked up on his return to his hotel following an escape from his guard last evening.

Icaza, in protective custody as a technical prisoner of United States immigration authorities since his return from Panama to appear as a witness at the trial, said he became separated from his guard in the crowd of a downtown street, went into a theater when he couldn't find him and fell asleep.

Bus company employees reported he attempted twice to get out of town during the several hours he was at liberty, but gave up the attempt when unable to obtain bus accommodations.

James Moffatt Of Navy Is Killed

Portersville District Soldier Dies Of Wounds Received In Action
 And Is Buried At Sea

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Moffatt, R. D. 1, Portersville, have received word from the Navy Department that their son, James William Moffatt, aged 20 years, fireman third class died of wounds received in action recently, and was buried at sea.

The message did not reveal the time and place of his death, but it is presumed to have been in the South Pacific, from whence he wrote his parents on November 16, stating that he was in good health.

He entered the service in February 1943 and had been overseas on active duty since last spring.

Besides his parents, he leaves three brothers, Robert, Donald, and John, all at home, and his grandfather, Thomas Bristol, of Camp Run.

Grocers Take Part In Anti-Inflation Week

Attempting in still another way to keep down the prices of the groceries you need, wholesale grocers, meat wholesalers, packers, and chain stores are cooperating with the OPA to make December 11 to 16 "Grocer-Consumer Anti-Inflation Campaign Week." The Price Panel Board announced this morning.

Posters are being distributed among local stores to focus public attention on the fact that a critical period in price control may lie just ahead, when carelessness could let loose a wave of inflation which would threaten the relatively stable base which has been established for post-war prosperity.

Part of the campaign, the board said, will be to get more housewives to use ceiling price lists when they shop.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

ments from it. Parents are inclined to interrupt the stuttering child, to tell him to go more slowly or repeat after them, even to rebuke him for stuttering. These parents may grow so distressed over the child's stuttering as to betray their feelings by the way they look at his mouth, by the way they breathe or move. The whole family and circle of friends may also so respond to the stuttering child. Such treatment, though with good intentions, tends to make the child more self-conscious and, therefore, more prone to stutter.

In the presence of the stutterer of any age, we should act as if all is going well; we should breathe naturally. Unless we can be relaxed and look at the stutterer's eyes, we had better not look at him at all while he stutters, certainly not at his mouth. We should not interrupt him or tell him to repeat or wait. If, however, we know the word he has been trying to say but can't, we might properly say it nonchalantly for him.

Reading Aloud
 To the pre-school child who stutters we should read daily, even to the school age child, provided he cares to have us do so. We should encourage this older child to read aloud a great deal while alone or to others who are sympathetic, or to a younger child. Also he should read aloud or sing in concert with other children at school.

At school, the teacher does most for the stuttering child as she helps his schoolmates gain a sympathetic, healthy attitude toward him and finds increasing ways to build up self-confidence in this child. More and more the speech expert at school is working indirectly on the stuttering pupil to the end that his schoolmates, teachers and parents will understand him, and act toward him as though he did not stutter. Anyway, all formal exercises concerning speech of the stuttering child should be left to the speech expert.

REJECT PEA-SHOOTER BAN

DETROIT, Dec. 7.—The Detroit City Council fearlessly refused to prohibit sale or possession of pea-shooters.

The measures, which would have subjected owners of the implements to 90 days in jail, was submitted by a police department attorney. The action was taken on a theater operator's complaint that his screen had been ruined by small-fry sharpshooters aiming at movie villains.

Veterans Feted At West Pittsburg

hall at 6:30 with the veterans, officials of Oliver Iron & Steel Corporation and representative citizens of the community present. Because of space limitations the number had to be restricted and about 45 were present. A community reception followed.

James Vessella, Chairman

James Vessella was the chairman of the dinner and the reception. Opening the dinner he asked Rev. Byrnes Robinson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, to pronounce the invocation. The salute to the flag followed led by Captain William Scott, in charge of the group of four Aachen veterans. Then came the chicken dinner, bountiful, tasty and satisfying. Southern chicken dinners are forgotten after one eats a West Pittsburg chicken dinner.

Fred A. Schmidt, a road supervisor of Taylor township, was introduced as the first speaker and in behalf of the community he welcomed Captain Scott. Sgt. Richard Vanderbloemen, Pfc. Stanley Palka, Pfc. Steve Janicki and Pfc. Mel Byrne. "We are honored by your presence," said Mr. Schmidt, "and upon behalf of West Pittsburg workers I want to say that your plea for more production of ammunition will be answered here. Our little community is very close to the war. Over 150 of our young men have answered the call, three of them will never return. One family, that of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Papa, has seven sons in service with another awaiting orders. We are proud of our war record and we want you to be proud of our production record and I know you will."

Roger Jewett Speaks

Roger Jewett, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, made the only dinner address. He congratulated the people of West Pittsburg for their patriotism and enthusiasm, spoke of the industrial expansion recently which has put men and women to work again and predicted that with the proper community cooperation West Pittsburg had an industrial future that was bright.

At this point guests were introduced. Among them were B. J. Beck, plant manager for Oliver Iron & Steel Corporation; Dana Burdette, personnel manager; James Murrie, tool room foreman; Roy Frisch, office manager; Arnold Fessinger, superintendent; Andrew MacKenzie, master mechanic; R. McD. Murray, industrial engineer; I. R. Grieves, employment manager; Tony Froelich, editor of the company magazine; Thomas D'Angelo, James E. Hecht, Mike Bobrich, Jerome Gansner, D. "Dick" Guseche.

Barney Gardner, George Shields and F. L. Anderson, the latter of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company. Rev. Robinson concluded the dinner with a benediction.

Reception Held

Following the dinner a reception and program was held. The only speakers were Captain Scott and the four veterans who told their impressive story of the shortage of ammunition on the front line. Like their every other appearance in the country they were greeted enthusiastically.

Ernie Young, a magician, was then introduced by William Norman, chairman of the entertainment committee and for half an hour Mr. Young mystified the crowd with his skill. Mr. Norman also led the crowd in pep singing. Bart Richards acted as toastmaster of the dinner and reception.

Speaking for his group Captain Scott was high in his praise of West Pittsburg's hospitality. And truth to tell it was a fine demonstration of hospitality by a fine group of citizens.

Visit the Plant

In the afternoon the "Firepower" group visited the plant of the Oliver Iron & Steel Corporation and spoke at two workers' rallies, one at 2 and the other at 4 o'clock. Here they saw the actual production of shells, not yet up to capacity because one line is not quite ready.

Here they saw the steel bars forged into rough shape, shaped by giant presses, machined down to silver like brightness, threaded, banded and made ready for the explosive which will give the 105 mm shells to the Germans, in small pieces.

Coincidentally Wednesday was the first day in which the corporation forged its own shell casings and the veterans were privileged to see the operation. From here they went on down the line, examining the processes, talking to the workers, and at the end they all expressed the opinion that here was a plant manned by men and women who were doing their job right up to the hilt.

The rallies were in charge of Ernest C. Schlusener, vice president in charge of operations. Following Captain Scott and the Aachen veterans, B. J. Beck, plant manager, spoke and assured the veterans of the will to win by the management. His statement was buttressed by Frank Senator, president of the CIO local, and John Lazar, chairman of the grievance committee. Briefly these representatives of the workers said, "we'll turn out the shells, you fellows toss 'em at the Germans."

During the tour of the plant Pfc. Stanley Palka of McKeesport met a former associate of his, Andy Grivna, now army ordnance inspector at the Oliver plant, but several years ago a fellow employ of Pfc. Palka at the National Tube plant at McKeesport. They held a two-man reunion.

That's the story of West Pittsburg's day, a day complete with interest and color and a day that will get results for General Eisenhower. Nobody ever asks West Pittsburg more than once.

REDUCED STATE REVENUES SEEN IN COMING YEAR

Governor Predicts Renegotiated War Contracts Will Cut Revenue

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Reduced state revenues reflecting renegotiated war contracts would mark Pennsylvania's financial picture during the next biennium starting June 1, Gov. Edward Martin predicted today.

"Major corporations are currently overpaying taxes," he said. Our surplus is the result of increased taxes on war businesses and of economic practices.

The revenue will greatly decrease during the next biennium following the renegotiation of war contracts," the governor declared but failed to estimate the decline.

Budget officials have estimated the treasury will bulge with a surplus of $170,000,000 when the current biennium ends May 31.

Governor Martin emphasized tax reductions may not be effected by the general assembly during the 1945 session. The state has operated under an overall budget of $508,000,000 during this biennium.

He hinted the one-cent a gallon "emergency" gasoline tax imposed nine years ago may not be eliminated if the proposed $50,000,000 highway improvement program is launched.

"If people want this big post war road program to be carried into effect, it will be necessary to reenact the levy," the governor declared.

The chief executive said his budget recommendations had not been drafted but indicated some provisions would be included to "assist in reducing the real estate tax burdens" of municipalities by earmarking state funds for distribution to local authorities.

War Bonds should mean something more to you than just "a good sound investment." Figure it out yourself.

FALL Housecleaning

Housecleaning may cause some lasting headaches.

If someone is helping you with your housecleaning, and that person has an accident, you are legally liable for the injuries caused.

"I'VE BEEN A GOOD GIRL, AND--"

THE WONDERMENT of Christmas mirrored in her eyes, little Nancy Louise Schade, Beaver Falls, Pa., stands close to tell Santa Claus what she would like in her stocking. Thousands of happy youngsters throng the department stores to visit St. Nick. (International)

Liberty Grange

GRANGE PROGRAM

Liberty grange members met in the grange hall Tuesday evening for a program on "Health."

The next meeting will be December 19, when a Christmas program will be presented and an exchange of gifts will take place.

LIBERTY GRANGE NOTES

Mrs. Opal Wharton and son are spending a few weeks with her grandmother in New Castle.

Mrs. L. T. McCracken and family and Barbara Sadley spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eppinger of Plaingrove.

Sgt. David Robinson of East Brook visited at the home of Wilbert Frazier on Tuesday.

Edward Altman and Robert Smiley and Ducky Samuels left Sunday for a deer hunting trip. They will be gone a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brooks and Audrey of Wurttemberg were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Locke.

There is no change in the condition of Mrs. Martha Russell who has been confined to her bed by illness for the past nine weeks.

Cpl. and Mrs. Robert Shuler and son of California and Blainox, Pa., spent last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Shuler.

What People Say

PARIS: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a proclamation to the German people: "The German army will be defeated. Larger and larger portions of German territory will be occupied by the Allied armies until the national socialist government and the German armed forces finally surrender or until they are crushed."

WASHINGTON: Ted R. Gamble, national director of the treasury's war finance division: "The war finance division appeals to the American people to give the sixth war loan drive priority over their Christmas shopping. Santa Claus can better serve the boys overseas if war bonds are prevalent on his list."

PITTSBURGH, Pa.: G. Edward Pendray, secretary of the American Rocket Society: "I wouldn't like to go on record as saying that the Germans can't send their rockets to New York, but if such an attempt were made, it seems to me that the amount of explosives such a rocket could carry would be rather negligible."

NEW YORK: Don Luigi Sturzo, noted Italian statesman: "Italians ought to be very grateful to the U. S. government for its declaration concerning the policy of non-interference in other countries, including Italy, in the solution of governmental problems according to true democratic standards."

EDENBURG

The Sabbath School Class of the Methodist church taught by Mrs. Alton Neisler met at the home of Patty Phenecie Thursday evening, November 30. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sam Phenecie and a social time enjoyed. The next meeting will be at the home of Joan Leeper, December 21.

Mrs. Glenn Ward of Youngstown, was a Wednesday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols, Jr.

Pvt. Joseph Wigton of Fort McPherson, Ga., is spending his furlough with his wife and son of New Castle and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wigton of Edenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith attended the funeral of Mr. Frank Smith of DeGraff, Ohio.

Danny Toy, of Ambridge, is visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Toy of Erie street.

Mrs. Genevieve Robertson of New Castle was a Tuesday visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Nora Kaufman.

More Threats By Japanese Mark Pearl Harbor Day

Premier Koiso Declares Retaliatory Measures To Be Drastic If Sacred Property Hit

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—In an address "commemorating the third anniversary of the outbreak of the war of Greater East Asia" and reported by the Japanese Domei agency, Premier Kuniaki Koiso today warned that "should the enemy in his blind bombing of Japan damage a remote corner of the sacred property held in reverence by the entire nation, the Japanese will take retaliatory measures which will be impossible for the enemy to forget."

Domei's dispatch was recorded by the FCC.

The remainder of the reported speech, however, appeared to be largely an appeal to the Japanese people "to exert their utmost on the home front."

"Ultimate victory in the current war," Domei reported Koiso as saying, "hinges upon the successful maintenance of a steady stream of war supplies for our armed forces."

The Domei version for consumption abroad said that Koiso had declared that Japan was fighting in Asia for a "new world based on moral justice."

The "national flag of the rising sun," he said, was a "ray of hope to the century-long oppressed peoples of East Asia" who know, it was said, "just who are the real enemies of the East Asiatic peoples."

Koiso repeated the long-familiar Japanese propaganda line that it was the United States and Great Britain which started the war.

According to Domei, Koiso said that with "boundless territories and inexhaustible natural resources, in addition to being protected by a wide expanse of ocean from any possibility of invasion, the enemy has no reason whatsoever to wage war."

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Superior Judge Arthur Crum today dismissed felonious assault charges against Tommy Dorsey, Mrs. Dorsey and Allen Smiley, growing out of the "battle of the balcony" with Jon Hall.

PLAN AKRON BUS STRIKE

AKRON, O., Dec. 7.—(INS)—A walkout of 450 bus and car operators of the Akron Transportation company set to begin Monday was announced today by William H.

Wright, president of the CIO-transport workers union.

The court at Spilsby, England, informed a mother that school came ahead of war work for her 10 and 12-year-old children. She drew a $2 fine for keeping them out, after she explained they took care of two younger evacuees, and were the last of 10 children, of which three were eloping on Britain's farm-food program and five others were in school.

The leis which are placed about the neck of every visitor to Hawaii were at one time reserved for Hawaiian royalty. Originally composed of the brilliant plumage of native birds, they are now made almost exclusively of flowers.

Shriners Prepare To Be Santa At Henry Home

Kiddies at the Margaret Henry Home are developing that Christmas spirit that means so much to young people about this time of the year and are looking forward with keen interest to the coming visit of Santa Claus representing Syria Temple, the Shriners of Pittsburgh. Old Saint Nick has been visiting this home for many years and he is always loaded to the gills with wonderful presents for the young people of this home. This year will be no exception, according to C. Ed. Brown, who represents the real Santa Claus. He has been caring on this service for a number of years, and in order that it will be one of the best ever held he has appointed a large number of Shriners to assist him and to see that the children are well taken care of.

All Shriners, members of the New Castle Caravan, and others are especially invited to be present on this occasion which will be held at the home, Saturday evening, December 23 at 7:30 o'clock.

They will wear their fez's. To show their appreciation of what the Shriners do for them at yule time the children of the home will furnish an excellent program of entertainment. Mrs. Green, the motherly matron of the home has been drilling the kiddies for some time, but not to be outdone by the inmates, Mr. Brown has appointed a committee also to do some entertaining and the evening promises to be one long remembered by not alone the kiddies but those who attend the affair.

The committee for the occasion follows:

General chairman, C. Ed. Brown; L. E. Round, William H. Dunlap, Frank S. Hoyt, Albert B. Street, Jacob F. Rantz, Clair E. Book, William M. Knox, Russell Melvin, Ed. Chapman, William L. Dean, and Charles Morrow.

Reception Committee: Orville Potter, Edward M. Fisher, Earl Kyle, Wesley Davy, T. E. Chambers, H. L. Marvin, Clifford Probst, Edward Pritchard, John H. Dittmer, Samuel Mooney, George Buchanan, Fred C. Wolford, Welly O. Rugh and Fred M. Alexander.

Entertainment: Louis A. Pearsall, Earl C. Jarrett, William O. Mooney, Charles Freeman, and Paul Keely.

Santa Claus: C. W. Herman Hess. Santa Claus Helpers: Alfred J. Robbins, Dave Axe, Wm. R. M. Voorhis, J. R. Rick, Leon Drumm, Wm. J. Usselson.

Pvt. W. L. Loudon Hit By Shrapnel

Wounded By Blasting Passage For Infantry During Battle For Holland

(Special To The News)

U. S. ARMY GENERAL HOSPITAL, England—Blasting the way for the Infantry with an anti-tank gun during the early stages of the battle of Holland, Pvt. William L. Loudon, R. D. 2, West State street, New Castle, Pa., hit by shrapnel, is now in a U. S. Army hospital in England.

The anti-tank squad to which he belonged was going ahead of the other troops to blast holes through brick walls obstructing passage across a canal. After achieving this objective and returning to his original position, the enemy laid mortar fire on the American line, hitting Pvt. Loudon with shrapnel.

Pt. Loudon is the son of Frank H. Loudon of New Castle.

Pfc. W. G. Cook Wounded In France

Pfc. Wesley G. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, of 7 Craig street, was slightly wounded in action in France on November 19, for the second time since he went overseas nine months ago. The first time was on September 8 in France. He had returned to duty on September 21.

Pfc. Cook is one of four brothers in service: T-Sgt. Fulton H. Cook is also in France; Pfc. Herbert Cook is in the South Pacific; John L. Cook is stationed at the civilian ordnance depot, Atlanta, Ga., with an automotive repair unit.

He is the brother of Mrs. Irwin Rosen and Mrs. Paul R. Rishel, both of this city.

Pittsburgh Soldier Distinguishes Self

WITH THE U. S. SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE, Dec. 6.—(Delayed)—(INS)—Pittsburgh's famed Commando Kelly has a rival today; a private from that same city who joined the ranks of America's war heroes by single-handedly smashing a German counter-attack and helping to put an enemy tank hors de combat.

St-Sgt. J. W. Olson Back From France

Mrs. John W. Olson, of North Mercer street, on Wednesday received a telephone call from her husband, St-Sgt. John W. Olson stating that he is now located at England general hospital, Atlantic City, N. J.

He was wounded on September 14 in France and lost his left leg below the knee.

St-Sgt. Olson expects to be home on a 14-day furlough sometime this month. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Olson, of East Leasure avenue.

Pfc. Felix Biega Recovers In England

Wampum Man Hit By Sniper While Aiding Wounded Comrade In French Orchard Battle

(Special To The News)

83rd GENERAL HOSPITAL, England—Wounded in the left shoulder by a sniper's bullet as he went to the aid of a fallen comrade, Pfc. Felix P. Biega, of Wampum, Pa., is now recovering at this U. S. Army General Hospital in England.

It was while his platoon was in hand-to-hand combat with the enemy in an orchard in France that Pfc. Biega was hit. He was giving first aid to a sergeant.

"I dragged myself to a shallow ditch for protection and waited for the other medics to attend the more seriously wounded," the Wampum medical soldier related. "Then I made the trip to our battalion aid station as a patient."

114th GENERAL HOSPITAL, England—Wounded while advancing on St. Lo, rifle grenadier Pvt. Michael Peluso, 721 Maple street, New Castle, has been awarded the Purple Heart, and is now recovering at a United States Army general hospital in England.

Pt. Peluso had just helped to destroy a machine gun nest when shrapnel from a German '88' struck him in the left foot.

His wife and child live at the Maple street address.

INDICT 13 ON BRIBERY CHARGE

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Five legislators and eight naturalized citizens indicted today in a grand jury warrant issued by Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr.

Charges of conspiracy to pay and accept bribes to obtain passage of a 1939 law providing professional standing to nature healers were placed against the men in the warrant, the second to be issued within the week.

According to Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler, the American Naturopathic association of Michigan paid bribes of several thousands of dollars to two state senators and three representatives.

The indictments brought to 16 the number of men indicted this week.

Multiple Demands Cut Bible Supply, Local Stores Find

Christmas Demands, Servicemen's Needs, Enemy Rehabilitation Needs All Cut Local Stock

Although it's nothing unusual for the demand for Bibles, always strong, to increase suddenly at Christmas time, this year the increase is complicated by two factors, according to local stores.

The first is that so many of the families who have men in service are buying Bibles for those men, and second, that the supply of Bibles is definitely curtailed. Many editions and translations are impossible to get, and the ones which are available have to be rationed out by the publishers.

"Naturally, we aren't getting any of the Bibles from England which are so popular," said one clerk. "The demand for Bibles for children is increasing this month, also," the store employee added. "We don't know that that shows any increased interest on the part of the children who get them, though."

Demands for Bibles are coming into the American Bible society's offices from all corners of the earth right now, it is revealed. This society publishes Bibles in 41 languages including German, Japanese, Dutch, Tagalog, Cebuano, Italian, French, Russian, Polish and Czech. Even men and women marooned at sea in lifeboats and rafts are now supplied water-proof editions of the Bible as part of the standard equipment of all emergency craft, the society reports. According to Dr. Eric North, secretary of the society, 4,725,301 testaments have been distributed to our fighting men and women, plus 289,455 Bibles and 1,402,289 Gospels.

And now a new use, and consequently a new demand for Bibles has arisen with the liberation of much of Europe and the capture of many enemy troops. The Bibles are much in demand among the freed peoples of formerly-occupied countries, and they are also playing a key role in rehabilitation work among captured Nazis.

Receives Word Brother Killed

Pfc. Robert J. Egan Of Rome, N. Y., Killed In Action In Germany, Nov. 18

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Egan, 220 Meyer avenue, this city, have received the sad word that the former's brother, Pfc. Robert J. Egan, 28, of Rome, N. Y., attached to a tank destroyer unit, was killed in Germany, November 18.

In addition to his brother here he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene D. Bond Egan and one-year-old daughter, Lucene Elsie, of Westmoreland, N. Y., his father, Martin M. of Rome, and four other brothers, Sgt. Francis J. in Belgium; Pvt. William H. in Oregon; Edward P. and Martin M. Jr., at Rome.

Pfc. Egan was graduated from St. Mary's school at Rome and also Rome Free Academy and enlisted in 1936. After serving four years he was recalled to service and was assigned to Pine camp and later went overseas.

Grandson Killed In Action In Germany

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Marks, 1809 Highland avenue, received word this morning that their grandson, Pfc. Charles W. Marks, of Philadelphia, has been killed in action in Germany.

Pfc. Marks is survived by his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marks, all of Philadelphia. He had been in service more than two years, had visited his grandparents here just prior to going overseas in August.

Mahoning School
Pupils Remember
Wounded Soldiers

Some of those in the armed forces confined in army hospitals will be the happier this Christmas because of the generous spirit of the pupils of Mahoning school.

Since November 1, pupils have been bringing in gifts of many books, puzzle games and cards to be sent to men who will be in hospitals during the holiday season. About 30 decks of cards, a number of puzzles and games and about 25 books were donated by the pupils, also over $35 in money which will be used to buy gifts. Some of this will be given to Deshon hospital, Butler, and the Deshon hospital annex here.

At present, individual Christmas boxes are being packed which will be handed over to the women's auxiliary of the American Legion, who will distribute them to Pennsylvania Veterans who are now in hospitals in this state.

Pupils Sell Many
Stamps And Bonds

Since the opening of the school term in September, the sale of war stamps and bonds at Mahoning school has reached the total of $10,024.45. This does not include the receipts of today, Pearl Harbor Day, which it is expected will be a big day of sales by the pupils. A pupil third grade purchased a $3.75 bond, thus boosting the sales to this splendid total.

BOOK COVER DISPLAY
AT WARD LIBRARY

In the display window of the Mahoningtown branch of Free Library, there is an interesting display of illustrated jackets of new books with the following titles and authors: "Bering's Potlatch" by McDonald; "Yea, Wildcats" (football), John R. Tunis; "Mystery at White Moccasins" by L. A. Wadsworth; "Granite Harbor" by Dorothy Hayward Bird; "The House", Marjorie Hill Allen; "Jezebel the Jeep", Fairfax Downey; "The Mystery of Yogo Creek", Grace E. Olive Barnett; "Whoa Matilda", Janet Lambert; "Pictures of Pete", Darrell Huff; "The Secret of the Closed Gate", Margaret Leighton; "The Long Trains", Stephen R. Meader.

Presbyterians Give
Call To Pastorate

At the congregational meeting of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, an unanimous call was extended to Rev. R. L. McKibben, of Williamsburg, Ohio, to become pastor of the church. Dr. John Orr, acting pastor presided over the meeting.

Rev. McKibben preached at the local church on Sunday, November 26.

BEAVER PATROL

On Wednesday evening, Kenneth Liverson of North Liberty street entertained members of the Beaver

Patrol of Mahoningtown Scouts at his home. Plans were made for a contest until January 24. A splendid lunch was served by the host, assisted by his brother, Richard. Next meeting will be at the home of Joe Matteo, 513 West Cherry street.

KINGS SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS

From all reports the Kings of the ward have been the most fortunate of the deer hunters this season. Word comes that William King and son of 519 North Cedar street were each successful in killing a buck. One of the deer had four points, the other six points.

They were hunting in Potter county.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Ben Pelosi, Cook 2-c, attached to the Coast Guard, stationed at Baltimore, Md., has left after spending a week of his leave visiting with his mother, Mrs. Ernestine Pelosi and sister Mary, of 203 South Ashland avenue. He will visit with his sister, Mrs. Teresa Skoda of Johnstown, N. Y., before returning to Baltimore.

E. M. Jones, of Sunny Side, Mt. Jackson road, who was confined to his home with illness, is much improved, and has returned to his employment.

Samuel P. Butler, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maiorano, of 201 West Cherry street, have received word from the former's brother Willie, that he has arrived at the Naval Training Center at Sampson, N. Y., for his boot training.

NAZI BRUTALITY IN ALSACE TOLD

How Nazis Treated Occupied Alsace Residents Is Revealed To Correspondent

By FRANCOIS MUSARD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FRENCH FIRST ARMY, Alsace, Dec. 5.—(Delayed)—The brutality of Nazi terrorists in occupied Alsace was revealed to this correspondent today in stark outlines during a tour of the notorious Schirmeck concentration camp with a laughing young Alsatian who spent nine months there under the oppressor's heel.

He was 23-year-old Robert Krier, who was arrested March 3, 1941, when he refused to enlist in the Nazi SS corps.

"The Germans did not always use radio for persuasive propaganda," he told me with a laugh. "There was a 40-year-old SS officer by the name of Karl Buc in charge of Schirmeck and he knew all the tricks of terror and pain to use when he questioned a prisoner."

"The revolver and the club were his standard equipment." Krier survived the brutalities of the camp until the following November when he was transferred to the Welshelm camp near Stuttgart, Germany. Later he was turned over to a German farmer as a slave worker.

Escaped Nazi Master But Krier, a powerful young man of strong will, escaped from his Nazi master and made his way back to the Vosges mountains where he joined the French Maquis.

The weather today was sinisterly appropriate for a tour through Schirmeck, abandoned since the Nazis have been driven out. Torrents of rain, mixed with hail, were whipped into our faces by angry gusts of wind.

"When we were prisoners," Krier said, "our guards chose such days as this for long hours of drill in the yard. They chose a sadistic pleasure in making us lie flat on the muddy ground and if anyone showed the slightest hesitation, his head was slammed down into the muck with a Nazi heel."

"Other times they would make us hop around the camp while squatting on our heels until we were completely exhausted. At times they would hitch 15 prisoners to a big iron roller that six horses could barely move and make them drag it about the yard."

"Some of the guards took a delight in knocking our caps into the mud and then forcing us to pick them up with our teeth without bending our knees."

"All of these indignities were accompanied by blows, beatings and foul epithets."

Between 1,500 and 2,000 prisoners were confined in Schirmeck at all times. There was no distinction made for age or sex and the Nazi chiefs of the camp were responsible to no one.

Baron Brothers Serve Together Over Two Years

Among the men recently commended by the commanding general of the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe for pre-invasion production efforts are Pfc. Frank and Sam Baron, brothers who are serving together as mechanics with the ground crew at an air service command depot in England.

These men, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baron, 414 Boyles avenue, have been together since they entered the Army over two years ago. Stationed at first in the state of Washington, they are now basking in the praise of the British press, which has been lauding the soldiers for their part in keeping Yankee planes in control of European skies.

Pvt. James Assid Reported Wounded

Pvt. James Assid was slightly wounded in Germany on November 17, according to word received from the War department by his wife of West Washburn avenue.

He entered Army service over two years ago, has been overseas for the past five months. He was formerly employed at the Blair Strip Steel Company.

He is a son of Mike Assid of Volant, R. D. 3, and a brother of Mrs. Kay Luton of 312 Montgomery avenue.

Kiwanians Hear Dr. S. E. Irvine

Pastor Of First United Presbyterian
Church Discusses Peace Plans
Of United Nations

New Castle Kiwanis club members heard a fine summation of the trend which has become apparent in the diplomatic camp of the United Nations, and warned that any peace which comes out of this war, in order to be lasting, must be founded on justice for the defeated nations.

He stated that he had approved most heartily the statement of Secretary of State Stettinius, that the United States would make an effort to see that liberated countries in the United Nations group would have an opportunity to form their own system of government without interference from the larger nations of the group.

He decried the present situation, whereby Russia was dominating the Baltic and Balkan countries, Great Britain in Greece and Italy, and the United States in France, apparently seeking to interfere with the will of the people in these countries. He said the "Big Three" must stick together or hang separately.

No peace founded on force will be lasting, he said in conclusion, and the only possible use that force should make in the peace effort is to promote justice.

He said that there should be a public demand that the peace be founded on justice.

Guests of the club from Deshon Annex were: Pvt. Nick Stolar of Millville, N. J., who was wounded while serving with the Fifth Army in Italy, and Pvt. Alfred Anderson of Phillipsburg, N. J., who was wounded in France while serving with the 29th Division, which landed on the Normandy Beach on D-Day plus one.

Mrs. Tessie Anderson of 19 West Falls street has received a letter from Lieut. Commander R. E. Fahnestock, U.S.N.R., in northern France, stating that her son, S1-c Kenneth Anderson, has served under his command aboard L. S. T. 491 and was an important contributing factor in the efficient successful operation of the ship, serving with distinction during the assaults on enemy coasts of northern France in June and July and southern France in August up to the present time; also that his conduct has been exemplary and his loyalty and efficiency is beyond reproach. Commander Fahnestock has been transferred to another command.

S 1-c Anderson has been in the service 14 months and overseas nine months.

A brother, Cpl. James Anderson, Medical Corps, is serving in Italy, 2 1/2 years in service, 28 months overseas. Another, Cpl. Jack Anderson, of the Air Corps, is stationed at Selfridge Field, Mich.

FACTS about Storm Master

COMBINATION WINDOWS AND SCREENS

You have noticed the large number of homes where storm sash is being installed.

There are sound reasons behind this. When the window is sealed on your frame a dead air space is created between the two windows, holding the heat back in the house. The principle is much like that of a thermos bottle, with its two containers holding in the heat.

Fuel savings on the average home are 33%. This alone pays for the windows in time.

The windows also seal out all dirt, something every housewife appreciates.

STORM MASTER storm window is the only window with ALL of the following features:

1. Genuine California Redwood. Lasts a lifetime.
2. Interchangeable from glass to screen from inside the house.
3. Screens fit top or bottom.
4. Interlocked (tongue and groove) joints throughout.
5. Defroster to prevent steaming windows.
6. Ventilator on all windows.
7. Deal direct with the factory, saving distribution costs.

Terms: Cash or monthly payments up to 36 months. No down payment. First payment after February 15.

Phone for our estimator to show you the window and give price at absolutely no obligation.

Broschart Gets Purple Heart

Local Air Hero Receives Medal For Wounds Received In January
Of This Year In Pacific Area

T-Sgt. Joseph F. Broschart, Pacific area air hero, who spent a year and a half with the air forces fighting the Japs, when the going was the toughest, has received the Purple Heart which he earned when a Jap flak shell plowed into the Liberator bomber on which he was serving as a waist gunner, and burst inside the ship peppering his left side with pieces from the bursting shell. This occurred last January 3.

After recovery from his wounds, Sergeant Broschart returned to the states, and has been serving as flight engineer instructor at the Galveston Army Air Field, Galveston, Texas.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredolin Broschart of Boston avenue. Some months ago he was listed by General MacArthur as one of the 100 outstanding war heroes of the Pacific area and had over 80 combat missions to his credit before he was wounded.

Memorial Service
Sunday For Soldier
At Portersville
At Mountville First U. P. church, Portersville, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, there will be a memorial service honoring Pvt. Charles E. Rugh, who was killed in action in France September 7. He was attached to the field artillery.

Pvt. Rugh is survived by his father, John S. Rugh, two brothers Fred P. and William H. Rugh of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Williams R. D. 2, Ellwood City, and Mrs. Frances Brennaman of Detroit, Mich.

He enlisted December 26, 1939 and went overseas in February 1943. Pvt. Rugh also served in the North African, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns. He was born in Portersville, and attended Portersville R. F. D. and Princeton schools.

Back After Long Service In Pacific
Pfc. Howard Davison, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Davison, Long avenue, this city, has arrived in New Castle, after having served the past three and one-half years in the South Pacific. Pfc. Davison, who is here on a 30-day furlough, served in Hawaii, the Fiji Islands, the Solomons, and engaged in three major battles, that of Pearl Harbor, Battle of Midway and Bougainville.

Having seen plenty of action, Pfc. Davison is indeed happy to be back in New Castle.

He relates the city looks much the same and speaks with feeling of how good it is to be with old friends again.

Pfc. Davison shared his trip home with Staff Sgt. Ralph Turco of Pearson street, also home on a 30-day furlough. Staff Sergeant Turco and Pfc. Davison left the States at the same time, and have been fortunate in having been located together ever since. Pfc. Davison will return to Camp Butner, North Carolina, to resume his duties on December 26.

THERE'S MORE TO REMEMBER THAN PEARL HARBOR!

Sure we remember the sneak attack of the Japs on Pearl Harbor—the infamous treachery of these vile murderers.

We were all shocked—made fighting mad, too—when we heard the horrible story of this "death march" on Bataan.

Yet that's the enemy we're still facing in the Pacific. Savages who care nothing for human decency—who know only how to butcher the prisoners they take and to keep on torturing them as long as they can.

We've got to stop them. We're going to stop them. We're going to avenge the American deaths they've caused—tenfold and more!

But that doesn't mean that any of us can sit back and take it easy. It takes nerves and steel to fight this war—and it takes money—a lot of money. For we've got to fight these monsters in every corner of the Pacific—that means ships, planes and guns in an endless quantity. So let's buy that extra $100 Bond right now. Then another and another!

Let's help erase the Japs—with our Bonds!

Splendid Cough Syrup
Easily Mixed at Home
It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.
To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried you'll never be without it, and it's so simple and easy.
First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.
Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, known for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes. Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste. And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and let's you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

No Postponement Of Inductions At Christmas Time

Telegram From State Selective
Service System Says That Calls
Must Be Met On Schedule

Telegrams were received today by the four local boards of the Selective Service System in Lawrence county, three of which are located in New Castle, stating that there can be no postponement of inductions because of the holiday season. The telegrams were worded as follows:

"Fathers and non-fathers are dying hourly on the fields of battle. Literally millions of fathers now in service will not be with their families over Christmas. Local boards are prohibited from postponing inductions because of the holiday season. Calls must be met as scheduled."

Start Preliminary Work On Trailer Camp For City

Delvan Contracting company of New York City has commenced preliminary work for the installation by the Federal Government of a 350-unit trailer camp in Jackson Avenue vicinity, according to City Engineer John Z. Street. Employees were engaged in cutting down brush today, he stated. The trailer units are to house workmen in vital industries here, according to city councilmen.

One Of Three Stolen Cars Found By Police

Of three autos stolen during the last 24 hours police have recovered one; in fact, found the auto within less than one hour after it was reported stolen. It was a Dodge, owned by Walter Smith, West North street, which was removed from his garage to be found later in Atlantic avenue. Robert Clements, North Mill street, reported his Buick, Pennsylvania license NM15 had been stolen from Rebecca street last night and Frank Greco, Ellwood City, R. D. 1, reported his Ford coach, Pennsylvania license 6722G was stolen from Croton avenue, south of Washington street.

Although Hawaii has several active volcanoes, there have been no volcanic disasters in recent times. This is due to the peculiar nature of the lava, which releases rather than imprisons the explosive gases.

Aunt And Niece, Crash Victims Are In Ellwood Hospital

Mrs. Carl Peterson and her niece, Mrs. Carl Sherer, of 1217 Finch street, New Castle, are patients in the Ellwood hospital as the result of injuries received when the automobile in which they were passengers struck a telephone pole near Brown's hill on the Ellwood City-New Castle road recently. Mrs. Peterson dislocated her right ankle and Mrs. Sherer, who is the daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Houk of Castledale, suffered abrasions and bruises. The driver of the car, Mr. Peterson, was uninjured.

CHARGE HOLDUP
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Robert Henchell, 21, and Anthony Priore, 22, both of Pittsburgh, today were charged by police with having held up a gas station and a saloon in the Steel City area and stolen a car in Johnstown.

Authorities charged they were the gunmen who escaped with $374 in a south side gasoline station holdup and who heldup a Hazelwood saloon.

The pair later stole a car in Johnstown, police said, and went to Florida for a few days.

Rain falls on Brest about 200 days of the year.

Fines Imposed For Eviction

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Bertram C. Miller of R. D. 2, New Castle, today pleaded guilty to unlawfully evicting a family of four from a house at mid-night, June 4.

OPA agents said the eviction took place while Lawrence Marsh Jr. and his wife were absent from the cottage on Slippery Rock Creek and the two Marsh children, aged three and five, had to spend the night in an auto.

The Millers contended the Marshes had been asked to vacate the cottage but had failed to do so. Federal Judge R. M. Gibson fined the Millers $100 each.

Rome must be bombed; France must be punished; nothing that endangers our boys is too scared to destroy—except Franco.

Swing Lobby Keeps Attendance Checked With 'Pink Cards'

Pink cards issued for admittance into Swing Lobby did their work last night, keeping the crowd down to just below 400, the Swing Lobby committee reports.

These admittance cards, to be official, must carry the signatures of both the student and his report room teacher. County high schools will receive their cards, too, either through a Swing Lobby representative at the school or through the principal.

Although no definite date has been set for the opening of the lobby's new headquarters, the committee is in the market for talent for the entertainment on the opening night. All students willing to contribute something to the evening's program are to contact program chairman Aline Turner and Phyllis Burdette.

Sgt. Robert Andreas Is Killed In France

Husband Of Local Girl Had Been With Infantry In France Since Last July

Staff Sergeant Robert Andreas, husband of Mrs. Diana Andreas, 217 South Cedar street, was killed in action in France on November 15, according to a War Department telegram received by his wife.

The twenty-three year old infantryman had been in service 28 months, and overseas since last July. Before entering the army he was employed at Gustav's bakery on East Washington street.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Andreas, of Beaver Falls, S-Sgt. Andreas is survived by his wife, his parents, two brothers and a sister.

SALES CONTINUED

Acting under the provisions of an Act of 1943, by which properties sold by the county may be divested of all mortgages, liens and ground rents, the county commissioners offered three pieces of property for sale Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Bids were made but all three sales were continued until December 27.

First offered was the property of Leslie Brindle on North Jefferson street on which an "upset price" of $5099.08 had been set and upon which no bids had been made when it was first offered for sale. A bid of $1000 was made by Leslie Brindle and no other bids made. Sale continued.

The second was the property of the Knights of Columbus on North Jefferson street upon which an "upset price" of $10,567.44 had been previously set. A bid of $4000 for the Knights of Columbus was made and no others. Sale continued.

The third was two lots owned by E. F. G. Harper in Union township, upon which an "upset price" of $201.65 had been placed. A bid of $50 was made by J. Clyde Gillfillan. Sale continued.

Originally it had been intended to offer the Cathedral for sale at the same time. A minor defect was found in the service of the papers and an amendment to the original petition was asked for and received. The sale of this property on Lincoln avenue will be made December 27 when the others will again come up for bid.

Upon all the properties the county had taken title for delinquent taxes. The properties will go to the highest bidders.

CIVIL COURT CANCELLED

Two weeks of civil court, those of January 15 and February 12 have been cancelled by court order. The list of cases is light and one week in each term will be sufficient it is thought.

NAMED TO COMMITTEES

County Commissioners Joseph P. Travers and Earl R. Wimer have been named to committees of the Pennsylvania Association of County Commissioners. Mr. Travers has been named to the Committee on Sixth Class counties and Mr. Wimer to the Committee on Revision of Local Taxation. A meeting of both committees will be held in Harrisburg on Friday, December 8th which they will attend.

IS PAROLED

Walter R. Orlowski, committed to the Allegheny County Workhouse for a period of ten to twenty months in September 1944 was paroled Wednesday morning. His health has been poor and he was paroled after some strict injunctions by Judge W. Walter Graham upon his future behavior.

Ancient Hawaiian kings had to risk their lives once a year to remain on the throne. During a festival, which lasted a month, the monarch bedecked himself in his finest robes and was paddled in a canoe along the shore. Upon disembarking he was met by the kingdom's strongest and most expert warrior who hurled a spear at him from 30 paces. The king had to catch the weapon or suffer the consequences.

Westinghouse To Play New Castle Quintet Tonight

New Castle Going After Second Win Of Season, Preliminary At 7 P. M.

New Castle High school basketball team will play Westinghouse High, city champions in Pittsburgh last year, at George Washington High gym tonight, and hopes to win its second game of the pre-league season.

New Castle High bumped Sharpville Tuesday night in the opener, 29-24. In the preliminary tonight Mt. Jackson High school, Section 21 members, will play the New Castle High Reserves at 7 o'clock.

New Castle had a well balanced and hard fighting team on the floor against the fast Sharpville team and gave promise of developing into a fine quintet.

Stack Looks Good
Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has uncovered another potential star in Pete Stack, the lanky center, who started last Tuesday at center in place of Freddy Wimer. Stack dumped in four field goals on Sharpville and played a stellar defensive game as well.

Westinghouse will bring a strong team to New Castle. Not many of the 1943-44 team was lost by graduation, leaving the school with a lot of fine basketball material from the championship squad of last season. New Castle will have to keep going every minute tonight to win.

HIGH GRIDDERS DINE DECEMBER 14

Faculty Manager Gardner Secures Clark Shaughnessy And Rosey Rowswell As Speakers

New Castle High's "Red Hurricane" football team will gather at George Washington cafeteria on the night of Thursday, December 14, at 6:30 o'clock, to partake of the annual football dinner and hear two prominent Pittsburgh speakers.

Members of the school board, coaches and team managers will also sit down at the festive boards, it was announced.

The two speakers who need no introduction to New Castle audiences, especially athletes are: Coach Shaughnessy of the University of Pittsburgh, and Rosey Rowswell, famous Pittsburgh Pirates baseball announcer, creator of "Aunt Minnie and her Petunias."

Altogether about 40 or 50 persons will sit down to the festive boards well laden with goodies.

Amato Of Pirates In Maritime Service

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Pirates President William E. Benswanger today sent to National league officials the name of Harry Amato, outfielder and southpaw pitcher, to be added to the list of players now in the armed forces.

Amato, of Springfield, O., has joined the maritime service. A product of American Legion junior baseball in 1943, Amato was signed by the Pirates a year ago and optioned to York. He is the 30th Pirate in the service.

Blake Of Canadiens Leads Scoring Race

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Montreal Canadiens not only held a firmer grip on first place in the National Hockey league standings today, but also had the league's top scorer in Wing Toe Blake.

Blake sparked the Canadiens to a 4-1 victory over the Boston Bruins last night by scoring two goals and setting up a third, giving him a season total of 26 points against Bruin star Bill Cowley's 25.

BRONZE, ALCOAS BAPTISTS AHEAD

Bronze Tops United 42 To 29, Alcoas Trim Rads 31-18, Baptists Wallop St. George

Three fast games were played Wednesday in the Indus-Church league at the "Y" court. In the first game the Johnson Bronze paced by Toscano, Bullano and Kelly gave the United Engineering a 42 to 29 setback.

In the second game the Aluminum Company team maintained its hot pace in the loop by smothering the National Rads 31 to 18, with Byler and Domagan the big stars of the contest. In the third game the First Baptist team pulled the St. George team out of a possible first place tie with Epworth by winning 47 to 17, as the Zeigler brothers pulled in 30 of the Baptist tallies. Johnny Passias was the star for the Greek quintet.

Grigas Explains To Management

CHELSEA, Mass., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Johnny Grigas, who left for his Chelsea home on the eve of the Card-Pitt final game of the season, may return to pro football but it won't be with the Chicago-Pittsburgh team of the National league, he declared today.

The former Holy Cross back pulled out before the game with Chicago Bears Sunday after playing 60 minutes in each of the nine previous games.

"If I return to pro football in 1945," he said, "it won't be as a player for the Chicago-Pittsburgh team."

In a letter to the management, Grigas had said his mind was no longer in the game "because of the physical beating week in and week out."

Rangers May Oppose Airmen In Sun Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Members and management of the undefeated Hollywood Rangers today were considering the first "bowl" invitation ever extended to a professional football team. The Rangers won 12 straight games this season.

The Rangers, champions of the west coast's American professional football league, were asked to meet the Second Air Force Superbombers of Colorado Springs in El Paso's Sun Bowl New Year's Day.

The bid was extended to Julian Smith, co-owner of the team, by Dr. Robert Homan, Sun Bowl committee chairman, when plans to use two service teams fell through because of the army's inability to release more than one such squad.

Rose Bowl Game Seats Sold Out

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Rose Bowl game, more than three weeks away, already is a sell out.

Arnold Eddy, USC manager of athletics, announced today that no more public applications for tickets would be accepted because more orders than can be filled already have been received.

The bowl game this New Year's day will be pitted against the University of Tennessee.

EVANS CITY HIGH PLAYING AT UNION

Union high school basketball team fresh from its wallop of Zellenople last Tuesday 46 to 36 will play the Evans City High quintet tonight at the Union floor in the home lid litter for the Coach Pat Patterson blue and white clad warriors.

The preliminary game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will feature the Evans City High Reserves against the Union Reserves.

Union High has visions of ascending the basketball ladder this year and hopes to add Evans City to the list tonight. Union looked real impressive at Zellenople, led by the high-scoring Ben Korab.

Pitt Steelers Will Drop Cards In 1945

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers' management, which has twice merged its club with other professional football teams during the war years today decided to go it alone in 1945.

Owners Art Rooney and Bert Bell, commenting on the relationship between the Steelers and the Chicago Cardinals this past season, declared:

"We have the best of feelings toward the Cardinals. They have a fine management and relations were most friendly. The whole bunch from Chicago were fine fellows, but we all know now that these combines just won't work out."

The Cardinals-Steelers combine lost ten straight games this season. Last year the Steelers found themselves in the National League basement after merging with Philadelphia's Eagles.

HORNETS TOP FLYERS
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Ice Hornets remained only two points behind the Indianapolis, Caps in the Western Division of the American Hockey league today by virtue of their 3-2 win last night over the St. Louis Flyers. The Hornets have won 11, lost 10 and tied 1.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The passing of the football season has left in its wake fewer standout players than campaigns in the non-war years, but out of the pile-ups and headline performances have emerged enough stars to make up an All-America squad second to none in the past.

The spotlight game of the entire season was last Saturday's Army victory over Navy at Baltimore, and as a fitting climax to West Point's greatest year since 1915 three men wearing the black and gold of the national champions have been selected in a nation-wide poll on the International News Service All-America first team for 1944.

Two from Navy's hard-luck eleven, two from Ohio State's Big Ten championship array, and one each from Georgia Tech, Indiana, Purdue and University of Southern California complete the mythical best eleven of the year from college gridirons.

Blanchard-Davis Good
Among the greatest backs the game has seen were big and rugged Felix (Doc) Blanchard and swift Glen Davis who led Army to its undefeated season and the greatest scoring spree ever enjoyed by an Army eleven in any campaign since the game came to West Point.

Blanchard, a tremendous defensive player and driving runner, and Davis, the nation's leading scorer, were top choices for the backfield, as mythical running mates for Ohio State's Les Horvath, the triple threat field general, and Boris Dimancheff, outstanding fullback in the Big Ten and voted Purdue's most valuable player.

Bob Jenkins' crippled star of Navy's three-beaten eleven, Claude Young, the Illinois flash, Bob Fenimore, of Oklahoma A. and M., and Bob Kelley, of Notre Dame, make up the second team backfield.

The first team ends are Jack Dugger, of Ohio State, a 210-pound star performer all season, and Phil Tinsley, of Georgia Tech, who is rated among the best in the last few years, going back to the era of Don Hutson.

At the tackle positions are Don Whitmire, of Navy, and John Ferraro, of University of Southern California, the latter school playing in a circuit this year which produced few standouts.

Whitmire Outstanding
Whitmire was a tremendous line-man all season and All-America choice for Navy last year. Previously he was a star at Alabama.

Ferraro, a six foot, three inch 225-pounder, is rated now among the two or three best tackles ever to play for U.S.C.

At the guard positions are Joe Stanowicz, of Army, a speedy made-over tackle, and Ben Chase, captain of the Navy squad who was all-state fullback as a high school star at San Diego, Cal.

The center is John Tavener, Indiana's fine line-man, who won his first team place in a close voting race with Tex Warrington, of Auburn and Jack Martin, of Navy.

Most of the year's best talent was concentrated in the east and midwest. The south, southwest and Pacific coast offered few players with any clear cut claims to fame as the teams, for the most part, went through ragged, in-and-out campaigns.

Two Fine Ends
Ends Paul Walker, of Yale, and George Paole, of Army, tackle Milan Lazetich, of Michigan, and Bill Willis, of Ohio State, guards Bill Hackett, of Ohio State, and John Green, of Army, and center Tex Warrington, of Auburn, make up the second team line playing ahead of the Jenkins-Kelly-Young-Fenimore backfield.

Of all the players selected, Blanchard has caught the fancy of the fans the nation over. Only a plebe, his tremendous kicking, blocking, tackling, running and all-around performing will be around for some time to harry Navy and the rest. If he grows any bigger and tougher they will have to build special stadiums to hold him.

WOMAN SHOTS DEER
WARREN, Pa., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Heavy snow and extremely cold weather has kept the deer kill in the Warren area down below par this season. It was reported today by Game Protector George Norris.

Mrs. Nettie Boyd of Barnes so far is the only woman reported to have killed a buck.

David MacDonald of Georgetown, Pa., however, reported that while hunting near Brookston he accidentally routed out four bears that, in their rush to get away, almost ran him down. With the bear season closed, he could only watch the animals flee.

LOST SKILL REGAINED
The art of surf-riding, Hawaii's national sport, was lost to Hawaiians for years. It was revived by a Chicago newspaperman who went to the islands in the early part of this century. The native reclaimed the sport and quickly regained the skill of their forebears.

Grange Takes Up Duties Of League

Former Illinois Flash Will Direct United States Grid League As President

By BILL COLLINS
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Red Grange, who some years ago took the National Football League out of the red, sat behind an executive's desk Monday folded his hands over an executive's paunch, and declared:

"We're ready to go."

Back in the early 20s, that would have meant a mess of touchdowns for Illinois. A little later it would have meant he was ready to perform in the professional football league founded by C. C. Pyle for Grange's special benefit. Still later it would have meant he was ready to do or die for the Chicago Bears. And last week it would have signified the closing of an insurance deal.

But now it meant that the all-time All-American halfback was ready to pack the ball for the United States Football League.

Grange Happy
It is obvious that the redhead is happy to be actively connected with football again, even though he is fully cognizant of the trials and tribulations that lie ahead of him as president of the United States Football League.

Professional football was being kicked around about the time Red's contract with Pyle ran out, and he joined the Bears in 1928. But the magic of his name and of his feats brought out the fans and they've been coming out ever since. But Harold E. Grange is the first to admit that a new league will find the going rough.

STOCK MARKET TREND UPWARD

Railroad Shares Guide Stock
Market To Higher Ground
This Morning

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Railroad shares guided the stock market to higher ground today, resuming the uptrend halted temporarily yesterday by profit taking. A handful of pivotal industrials shared the spotlight advancing fractionally in a light trade.

Gains in the carrier group ran to nearly a point. Santa Fe picked up 1/2. New York Central improved 1/2 in active dealings. Northern Pacific sold as high as 18 1/2, up 1/2.

Loews imparted strength to the movie list, climbing nearly 3 points to a new high on news of a 3-for-1 split.

International Harvester, International Nickel, DuPont, Texas Corp. and Engineers Public Service gained. Steels and motors were firm but little changed. Pepsi-Cola backed down a point.

Rail liens were higher in the bond market.

Income Tax Payers Get Month's Stay

Final Payment Need Not Be Made
Until January 15, Local Revenue Office Declares

According to word received at the New Castle branch office of the Internal Revenue Department, income taxpayers have been granted a month's stay in which to file their final return and make the last payment on 1944 taxes. In other words the last payment, normally due on December 15, can be postponed until January 15, 1945.

Taxpayers have been required to make payment, if they have been paying quarterly, on March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15. If there has been any change in their wages or income, they were also expected to file an estimate.

Taxpayers can disregard the fourth quarter estimate and make a final return on or before January 15, instead of December 15, it is announced.

WOULD BREAK UP GANGS

MCKEESPORT, Pa., Dec. 7.—(INS)—In a move to break up gangs of young criminals, Pennsylvania police chiefs will ask the legislature to drop the age limit at which lawbreakers may be prosecuted from 18 to 16.

The chiefs also decided at a meeting to sponsor a measure which would require promotions to be made on the basis of competitive examinations from among men in the ranks.

LEGAL NOTICES

Sale Notice

Private Sale of Land Formerly Sold for Taxes.

Notice hereby is given that Henry E. Jordan, R.D. No. 1, New Castle, Pennsylvania, has offered the sum of Twenty ($20.00) dollars, for the purchase of certain land situated in the Township of Shenango, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, said land being bounded and described as follows:

Designated as Lot No. 10 in the Edgewood plan of lots as recorded in Plot Book Vol. 11, page 7, and described as follows:

On the North by lot No. 9 in said plot; on the East by the New Castle and Edgewood City public road; on the South by lot No. 11 in said plot; and on the West by lot No. 39 in said plot, fronting 85 feet on said New Castle and Edgewood City public road and extending back of even width a distance of 256 feet.

Being the same land conveyed to Henry H. Davis et ux, and William C. Chigensmith et ux, by deed of F. O. McArthur and J. P. Hays et ux, dated August 25, 1924 and recorded in Deed Book Vol. 249, page 278.

Said Twenty ($20.00) dollars to be paid in cash.

Said land was sold to the County of Lawrence by the County Treasurer as the property of H. H. Davis et al. and H. H. Davis, by two sales, both of which were dated May 1, 1944, and recorded in Treasurer's Deed Book 3, pages 333 and 336, and that the County Commissioners of said County have presented their petition to the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, at No. 4 March Term, 1945 M.D., wherein they pray for an order of Court approving said sale, and the Court has fixed a hearing on the matter of the approval of said sale at the Court House, New Castle, Pa., on Friday the 15th day of December, 1944, at 9:00 o'clock A.M.

That the total amount of taxes, penalties, interest and costs against said property is the sum of Ninety-eight and 76/100 ($98.76) dollars.

Objections to said sale may be made at any time at or prior to said hearing.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY.

Believes Operation On 'Nubbins' Has Been Successful

BULLETIN

DENVER, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The all-important operation to save the life of Forest "Nubbins" Hoffman was performed today at Mercy hospital in Denver.

After the operation, Dr. T. Leon Howard, noted genito urinary expert, said:

"The operation was very satisfactory. I think Nubbins will be able to go home next week."

Dr. Howard's reassuring remarks were made to Nubbins' mother, Mrs. Marshall Hoffman of Cherry, Wyo., a woman companion of Mrs. Hoffman, and to this reporter—the only three persons permitted into the fourth floor corridor outside the operating room.

TWO FIRE CALLS OCCUR DURING NIGHT

City firemen answered two alarms during the night, one of which proved a false alarm, and the other a small blaze. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reported today.

At 1:20 o'clock this morning firemen were called to the home of Virginia Tinsley, 13 W. Lawrence street, where it was found a gas stove had been placed too close to the wall, setting it afire. Damage of $10 was done.

At 4:15 o'clock this morning a false alarm was turned in from Vettis Falls, Norway, are 850 feet high.

Boxes For Men In Hospitals Must Be Ready By Saturday

Shipment Of Christmas Boxes To Central Distributing Point Must Be Made This Week

New Castle folks who have in mind to pack a box for a disabled man in one of Pennsylvania's government hospitals are warned that they must have these boxes delivered to the Legion Home by Friday evening. The boxes must be in to the central distributing point at Pittsburgh by Sunday, December 10, so that delivery can be made from this point in time for Christmas.

The Legion Auxiliary has been packing the boxes from articles contributed by those who have not had the time themselves, and have purchased articles for these boxes from funds contributed by interested persons. In addition, the unit also gave $25 for this purpose themselves, and as a result, a large number of boxes will go out from New Castle for the men who are separated from their families this Christmas.

Jap Air Defense Becomes Stronger

Nearer United States Forces Get To Tokyo, Stiffer Defense Is Encountered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Japan's land-based planes are increasing in effectiveness as the Far Eastern war moved nearer the core of her empire, and promise a "long, bitter battle" before the Nipponese air force can be subdued, Secretary of Navy James V. Forrestal declared today.

His statement was prompted by the intensified air resistance encountered in the Philippines, where the Japs have a network of airfield from which they can throw airplanes in force into any one spot at a given time.

"We can expect still more opposition as we go along," Forrestal continued. "The nearer we get, the more the Jap can constrict his air defense, as well as his ground and sea defenses. Our choice of strategy will be required."

"He will not have to guess so much as to what we will do next. As Knute Rockne once said: 'It is harder to score a touchdown from the five-yard line than from the 40-yard line, because the defense is packed more tightly.'"

S-Sgt. John Rezzano Is Wounded In France

Now In Hospital, Soldier Sends Expert Infantryman Badge Home To Family

Staff Sgt. John D. Rezzano, who was wounded in the left hand during combat action on November 8, has sent home his Expert Infantryman badge to his wife, Mrs. Ida Rezzano of 212 East Home street.

Staff Sergeant Rezzano is now recovering in a U. S. Army hospital in France. In the Army for 20 months, he has been overseas since July 1. Two brothers, also sergeants, are in service too. Sgt. Pete Rezzano serving in the South Pacific and Sgt. Anthony Rezzano stationed in Louisiana. The men are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Rezzano of Wayne street.

Bomber Used To Aid Home Front

DENVER, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Distance has been annihilated in today's battle of home-front production where speed is the war-winning factor.

An A-26 bomber, arriving in Denver last night with 3,000 pounds of critical material, was to return to Wichita, Kan., this morning with the metal converted into shining new airplane parts.

When the material arrived at Stapleton Field last night, it was immediately transferred to a truck and rushed to Electron Corp., where 50 men were ready at their machines. The vital parts were to be in Wichita at noon today, and then will be flown to the Douglas Aircraft plant at Tulsa, Okla.

Third Class Cities Delegates Meet

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania league of third class cities opened a three-day convention at Harrisburg today to discuss proposed legislation for presentation to the general assembly during the 1945 session.

A report of joint state government commission studies will be presented by speaker of the house Ira

T. Fiss and addresses will be made by Mayor Howard E. Milliken, of Harrisburg and Harry K. Bauman, Allentown director of streets and public improvements.

Gov. Edward Martin will speak tomorrow. Saturday business sessions will include the adoption of resolutions and election of officers.

The elevators in the Carlsbad Caverns are the second largest single-lift elevators in the world, being surpassed only by those in the Empire State building in New York City.

NEW O. P. A. PROBLEM
NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—An OPA spokesman said today that the office of price administration has a hard nut to crack in the newest development in food rationing—the "Red Market."

He declared retail butchers throughout the country are defrauding housewives of millions of meat and butter ration points by exacting red points for beef and lamb represented as of upper-grade quality when in actuality the cuts come from carcasses in the unrationed "utility meats" category.
